

CONGRESSMAN LINEBERGER, IN SPEECH HERE, PROVES HIS 'DRY' RECORD 100 PER CENT PERFECT

Shows He Has Never Been Endorsed By Association Against Prohibition; Candidate Gets Support of Noted 'Dry' Leaders

Bringing to a close the political campaign in Glendale, Samuel Shortridge, United States Senator from California, and Walter F. Lineberger, congressman from the ninth district, were the principal speakers at a public meeting held Saturday night in the auditorium of the Union high school under the auspices of the Glendale Republican club.

Senator Shortridge delivered a personal message from Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, and also outlined the accomplishments of the Republican national administration. He urged that the entire Republican ticket, from highest to lowest office, be supported.

Congressman Lineberger, candidate for re-election in the district which includes the city of Glendale, devoted most of his address to answering accusations made by his opponent, Charles H. Randall, Democratic and Prohibition nominee.

Political advertisements, published in a number of newspapers throughout the ninth district in the interest of Randall, have charged that "Lineberger is endorsed by the National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, Inc." It is claimed that the association is in a national campaign against prohibition and in a letter, reproduced in the Randall advertisements, signed by the secretary of the association, voters in the ninth district are told that "Lineberger is the man to vote for."

"Those advertisements are deliberate misrepresentations and Mr. Randall knew it when he had them published," declared Lineberger in his address Saturday night.

"I received a letter from the association in question and I answered it by saying that I favor national prohibition and the Volstead act. I also answered that 'The only party of the program of your organization in which I can acquiesce is Article III, i. e., so long as the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act are the law of the land, they should be obeyed,' otherwise I am opposed to your program."

"Prohibition friends of mine brought to my attention that a copy of the letter from the secretary of the association in question was being circulated among ministers and others by the president of the Federation of the W. C. T. U. of Long Beach and I promptly wired to the secretary of the anti-prohibition association demanding a telegraphic retraction. I received a wire which read: 'YOU HAVE NEVER BEEN ENDORSED BY THE ORGANIZATION; AND IF YOU ADHERE TO POSITION SET FORTH IN YOUR TELEGRAM NEVER WILL BE.'"

"Copies of all this were placed before Mr. Randall, yet he continues his campaign of misrepresentation."

Surprise Party for Mr. and Mrs. Deal

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rattray of 286 Kenneth road entertained with a very delightful dinner-dance at their home Saturday night given as a surprise party to the twenty-fifth or "silver" wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal. A delicious seven-course turkey dinner was served, after which dancing was enjoyed.

The table decorations were carried out in the pastel shades, including the centerpiece of chrysanthemums, bride and groom place cards, bon-bon baskets and favors. One of the features of the dinner was the wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Deal were presented with a set of silver bread and butter spreaders. As a gift from the members of the arts and crafts section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. Deal is curator, she was presented with a pyrex pie dish in a Sheffield holder. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, Charles Beamon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dibern, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Herring, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rattray and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Echols.

Reactionary Moves Unavailing, Claim

MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—Reactionary movements directed against Bolshevism such as the Fascist seizure of power in Italy will not avail against the progress of communism, Commissar Zinoviev, executive of the third international, told that organization in a speech today.

"Communism is succeeding," he said. "But there must be closest co-operation among the workers. You foreign delegates must tell the workers in your own countries to push onward."

Zinoviev said that it was possible that the "workers" might have to go through revolutions in the backward country.

ALBERT CORNWELL HERE 30 YEARS, SEES GROWTH

Business Man Tells About Early Days, When Brand Was Barley Field

Days when Brand boulevard was a barley field and Broadway a sandy street are recalled by Albert G. Cornwell, progressive business man of 107 South Brand boulevard, who attended the Broadway school thirty years ago and graduated in 1907 from Glendale's "old square yellow high school," which stood on the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway.

Mr. Cornwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cornwell, and their family came to Glendale thirty years ago from Arkansas and the parents are still living at 135 North Kenwood street in the home they built twenty-seven years ago. Their family comprised three daughters, Misses Carrie, May and Jennie Cornwell, and two sons, Albert G. Cornwell, who is a member of the Cornwell-Kelly hardware firm; and Hugh Cornwell, local street contractor.

Few Paved Streets

"I well remember," says Albert G. Cornwell, "when there were only four or five blocks of paved streets in Glendale. Then there was no Brand boulevard. What is now that broad boulevard was a barley field."

"The center of town was out at Glendale and Wilson avenues where the postoffice, butcher shop, grocery store and depot were located."

"At that time all the district west of Central avenue and north of Broadway was all in peach orchards; all the district south of Broadway and west of Central avenue was in vineyards; and the district north of Lexington drive was in apricot and prune orchards."

"Why, I remember well when Harry M. Miller came to town, when he got married and when the late Mayor Goodrich, police force, fire chief, fire department, street sweeper and dog catcher."

"In those days Los Angeles was still young and there were no business houses south of Second street and what is now Pershing Square was a residential district."

"But Glendale hasn't been growing fast all the thirty years. It's been just about ten years that the rapid growth has taken place. I can remember that twelve years ago there were no business houses south of our store on Brand and no business houses on the west side of Brand north of Broadway."

"But Glendale has certainly grown in the past ten years and the predictions are that the next ten will witness its development into a city twice its present size."

Measures on Ballot Will Be Discussed

A big political meet, preliminary to tomorrow's election, is scheduled to take place tonight at the high school under the auspices of the Glendale Federation of Improvement Associations and the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Speakers of ability have been secured and the meeting, which is to begin promptly at 8 o'clock, is announced as open to all Glendaleans of all party affiliations.

Wright, who will discuss county measures; Ralph Criswell, chairman of the Los Angeles City council; Marion Tracy Whiting, president of the Southside Ebell club; Dr. John R. Haynes; Bert Woodard, formerly city attorney of Glendale; Ray Eberhart, assistant city attorney of Los Angeles; C. C. Mack, representing the People's Economic league; Dr. Harry C. Forbes, president of the Pacific College of Osteopathy; Dr. Gerard Knemmerling, health officer of Glendale; C. E. Anspach, local attorney; Dr. C. E. Fortin, representing the chiropractors.

L. H. Wilson will serve as secretary of the meeting. Vice presidents of the Federation of Improvement Associations are the individual associations, C. W. Ingledue, H. L. Finlay, J. M. Bolen, Alex. Mitchell, E. H. Botsford, William Griffin and H. C. Levey.

Former Glendalians Visit Mrs. S. Dell

Mrs. Annie Thompson and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Seymour Thompson of Beverly Hills, were guests during the past week of Sidney Dell of North Louise street, who is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis, 1003 East Lomita avenue. The two women are well known in Glendale, having lived here prior to moving to their present home.

Calls Meeting to Plan Big Parade for Armistice Day

D. W. Nichols, representing the Glendale American legion post, is in charge of plans for Armistice Day parade, and is urging Glendale patriotic, civic and religious organizations to take part in the big celebration.

In planning for the day Mr. Nichols has announced a meeting for Tuesday night, November 7, at 7 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall for all desiring to take part in the parade. At that time definite plans of the parade organization will be made and Mr. Nichols is anxious that everyone planning to appear in the parade will be represented at the meeting.

According to tentative plans the parade will end at high school grounds at about 11 o'clock Saturday morning for a brief service.

116 MINERS ARE DOOMED TO DEATH

Terrific Gas Explosion at Coal Company's Property Cause of Tragedy

BULLETIN
SPANGLER, Pa., Nov. 6.—Twenty-eight men were taken out alive at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Reilly coal mine No. 1 where a terrific gas explosion early today wrecked the shaft and entombed 144 workers. The twenty-eight men taken out alive were in a critical condition from the effects of the flames and gas and heroic means were restored to save their lives. One hundred and sixteen men remain in the mine unaccounted for as to whether they are dead or living.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 6.—Between 145 and 150 miners are entombed today with almost no chance of rescue alive, following a terrific gas explosion at 7:45 o'clock this morning in the No. 1 mine of the Reilly Coal company at Spangler, Pa., twenty-five miles north of here.

Tons of debris block the shaft 500 feet from the entrance and the entombed men are behind this barrier with all air cut off. Lack of air alone will kill the men in a short time, experts say.

Before noon the air fans were reported repaired and are again operating, but this affords scarcely any hope that any of the entombed men will be taken out alive.

Rush to Rescue
By noon a thousand miners from nearby points had reached the Reilly mine. They are equipped with gas masks and at noon they began digging furiously at the tons of debris tumbled down by the great explosion. Because the mine is still filled with gas, the rescuers are permitted to remain down but a few minutes at a time.

The shaft is half a mile deep and the scene of the disaster is about half a mile back from the bottom of the shaft. There is but one entrance to the mine.

How serious the debris obstruction is behind which the miners are trapped has not been ascertained.

Ex-Senator Wise Is After Old Seat

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—John H. Wise, former Republican senator, and William P. Jarratt, former Democratic high sheriff, will oppose each other tomorrow in the general election for territorial delegates to the United States senate.

Primary returns gave Wise a majority of 1500 while Jarratt walked in with a plurality of over 2500.

Wise was stricken with appendicitis and was forced to place his campaign in the hands of political friends and admirers.

Republicans Will Provide Autos for Glendale Voters

Just to lend the proper enthusiasm to election day, Glendale Republicans are urging all voters to journey to the polls tomorrow.

In order that every voting Glendanian may have marked a ballot at the end of the day tomorrow the local Republican club has announced the following phone numbers of people who will be ready all day with their automobiles to take voters to and from voting places.

Mrs. Charles Toll, Glendale 751; Mrs. John Robert White, Glendale 2106; Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, Glendale 1977-J; Glendale Republican club, Glendale 1218-J; Miss Eva Daniels, Glendale 911-M.

ONE PERSON HURT WHEN AUTO AND CAR COLLIDE

Carl Hartman of Burbank Is Injured; Several Other Accidents Sunday

What happens when a street car hits an automobile was illustrated about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Gardena crossing.

Thomas Watkins of 27 Orange Grove avenue, Burbank, was driving a large touring car across the tracks at this point. He was accompanied by Carl Hartman of Burbank.

"There was one electric car going south," stated Mr. Watkins after the accident. "After it passed, I started to cross the tracks at about fifteen miles per hour. I got almost to the other track when an electric car whistled. I tried to put my brakes on but the car was too far gone. The electric car hit my car and smashed the front and rear fender and the running board and some inside woodwork."

The touring car was dragged about eighty-five feet and as a result of the collision, Mr. Hartman received a compound fracture of the right elbow.

The Pacific Electric car was piloted by J. E. Davis. D. R. Tangler was its conductor.

Three in Mixup

A mix-up between two automobiles and one motorcycle occurred about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon about 100 yards west of Verdugo road on Colorado street.

The rider of the motorcycle, Paul Ben of 2723 South Delton street, Los Angeles, was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital with a broken leg.

Drivers of the automobiles were Kiyoyoshi Hiram of 978 South Normandie avenue, Los Angeles, and J. W. Howard of 139 Acacia street, Eagle Rock.

Minor damage was caused about 11 o'clock yesterday morning in a collision at 334 Vine street between automobiles driven by William E. Hibbard of 154 South Brand boulevard and Arthur R. Cressey of 512 West Vine street.

The front axle and right front fender of the machine of Lawrence A. Richards of 411 South Pacific avenue were injured this morning when struck by an automobile vehicle driven by N. E. Goulet. Mr. Richards was going east on Colorado street.

Mrs. Charles Hares of 632 North Occidental boulevard, Los Angeles, early last night was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital with slight bruises about the head when the machine she was driving hit a post on the Los Feliz bridge.

L. Hollingsworth, 462 Riverdale drive, and completed plans. A very successful dinner is being looked forward to by the committee, which includes Mrs. S. A. Davis, Mrs. Albert Perry, Mrs. A. P. McBoyle, Mrs. Bierson Hanning, Mrs. S. H. Waller, Mrs. Ralph Brown, Mrs. Leslie Tronier and Mrs. G. O. Pierce.

High School Boy's Death Mysterious

LONG BEACH, Nov. 6.—Police were investigating today the death of Dana G. Boley, 16-year-old high school boy who was killed late yesterday when, according to a story told by Miss Dorrine Salmon, school girl, he jokingly put a pistol to his head and killed himself as they sat talking in an automobile.

However, Chief of Police Ben McLendon was reluctant to accept the suicide theory as the pistol was not found for some time after the shooting when it was discovered hidden under the rear seat of the machine, and the dead boy's cap had not been found up to early today.

No reason could be found for the boy wanting to commit suicide and he was not known to have any enemies.

The police are searching for two "mysterious strangers" who appeared shortly before the shooting.

NATIONALISTS WILL TAKE OVER CONSTANTINOPLE

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Sir General Harrington, British military commander in Turkey, reported to the foreign office this evening that the allied high commissions would allow the Turkish nationalists to take over civil administration of Constantinople. He added that the Kemalists did not demand evacuation of Constantinople by allied troops, but only suggested that the time was opportune for such action. The allies refused. A report early in the day that a British military policeman and four Turks had been killed in an anti-Christian outbreak at Constantinople has not been confirmed.

JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT IN WILKENS TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The six weeks' hard fought legal battle having gone for naught because of failure of the jury which heard his trial for wife murder to reach an agreement, Henry Wilkens, auto mechanic today awaited in the county jail the setting of a date for his second trial. The jury deliberated twenty-three hours and reported themselves hopelessly deadlocked on the question of Wilkens' guilt or innocence. They stood six to six on ten of eleven ballots taken, their foreman reported to the court. Wilkens will appear before Judge Ward next Friday to have the date of his second trial set.

BODY OF SLAIN MAN IS IDENTIFIED BY HIS WIFE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—The body of a man found hidden on a narrow ledge beneath the mesa drive bridge several days ago has been identified as that of Nick F. Dabelich, 28, well known San Francisco cafe owner, according to his wife who has arrived from Oakland. Mrs. Dabelich said the man was her husband and had left her on October 16, saying he was going to Portland to purchase a hotel, but that a few days later she received a postal card from him saying he was coming to southern California. Mrs. Dabelich said her husband carried several hundred dollars on his person and wore a $3000 diamond ring. Believing robbery to have been the motive for the crime, police today started a search of the underworld for the slayer.

MINIMUM WAGE DECISION INTERESTS THIS STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Great interest was aroused in California today by press advices from Washington declaring the district court of appeals in the District of Columbia had declared unconstitutional the minimum wage law passed by Congress and affecting the city of Washington. The District of Columbia minimum wage law is said to be very similar to that in effect in California. The California law, although subject to much controversy, had never been carried to higher courts than the local state courts. It has been tested in many criminal actions, following failure of employers to carry out its provisions and in all instances was upheld by California cases. Advices from Washington did not state the grounds on which the district court of appeals had based its decision nor the points at issue in the constitutionality test. As a result it was said no opinion could be given as to its possible effect on the California law.

SEVERAL LIVES LOST AS RESULT OF SEVERE STORM

DENVER, Nov. 6.—Digging out activities prevailed today in southeastern Colorado and nearly the entire state of Wyoming following snow, sleet, hail, rain and blizzard conditions that gripped a section of the Rocky mountain region for nearly forty-eight hours. The storm had abated early today. At least five lives are known to have been lost in the winter's severest storm, several are injured, much livestock was killed and the property damage will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Transcontinental wire communication has been seriously curtailed and telegraph and telephone companies report hundreds of poles down. A blinding snow storm near Laramie, Wyo., caused a crash between a Union Pacific passenger train and a freight that took the lives of two members of the train crews but no passengers were reported injured. In Wyoming, high winds accompany a heavy snow fall, highways and railroad traffic being at a standstill because of the huge drifts. Snow was reported as far east as the Kansas line.

COMMUNICATION HALTED AS RESULT OF BIG STORM

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Wire communication between the east and west continued well high prostrated today as an aftermath of the first severe storm of the winter which swept Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas and other middle west states Saturday night and Sunday. Tornado twisters which swept Colorado and Oklahoma crashing telephone and telegraph poles and leaving death and destruction behind were followed by heavy snow and sleet storms throughout the central west. Snow had ceased falling in Salt Lake today but the ground was still covered. In Montana the snow was still falling and telephone and telegraph linemen were battling desperately to restore the several lines of communication. Press associations were reduced to limited service with the east and broker houses getting but meager stock market reports today. The American Telegraph & Telephone company, supplying the bulk of the leased wire service, expect by afternoon to have a semblance of complete service restored, although it was admitted weather conditions might frustrate their plans. The commercial telegraph companies were working with crippled wires and limited routings. Rain fell over northern California today. The temperature was warm. The coast weather conditions were brought about by a strong southwesterly gale which was sweeping the northern coast with such force that storm warnings were ordered posted by the United States weather bureau today along the Oregon and Washington coast lines. As there is little likelihood of the gale abating before tomorrow, prospects were for a rainy election day over Oregon, Washington and the greater part of California.

RICHARDSON WILL BE ELECTED BY BIG MAJORITY

Every Indication Republican Candidate Will Secure Huge Lead Tuesday

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 6.—"Friend William Richardson, the next governor of California, will be elected tomorrow by a majority only limited by the manner in which the citizens of California take their right of franchise to heart and go to the polls," said J. R. Gabbert, chairman of the Southern California Richardson-for-Governor Editorial committee here today, adding:

"The last minute smoke screen set up by Woolwine in an attempt to obscure the Richardson economic program, is not so dense as to confuse the voters of California, who made up their minds long before it appeared and it gives the Richardson committee no more worry than did the light wines and beer buncombe or the fake Ku Klux Klan issue."

"Richardson will carry every county in southern California so heavily that his total lead in this part of the state will run well up toward 200,000, limited only by the manner in which the people approach a 100 per cent vote."

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The country stood on the brink of a national election today with every surface indication pointing to continued control of congress by the Republicans for another two years—although by greatly reduced majorities.

Nothing short of a political miracle can take control of the senate away from the Republicans. Even the Democrats admit this, although they hope to reduce slightly the present Republican majority of twenty-four.

There is in the opinion of most unbiased political observers, a possibility that the house of representatives will be taken away from the Republicans tomorrow, but it is a possibility of so pale a hue that even the Democrats refrain from predicting it.

Careful Prediction
Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee, contented himself today with a final prediction that the "Democratic victory will be greater and more widespread" than previous.

Rev. Philip Kemp Is Given Reception

Rev. Philip K. Kemp, new pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church, and his bride were guests Saturday afternoon by a reception in their honor at the home of Charles H. Hamilton at 2121 Canada boulevard which was attended by over 200 members of the parish.

The church was represented by Mrs. Mortimer Baker, president of the Women's guild; Mrs. Helen I. Campbell, president of the choir guild; and Mrs. John Trotter, president of the women's auxiliary.

The tea urns were presided over by Mrs. F. L. Young, assisted by Mrs. Olive Taylor and Miss Kathleen Taylor. Punch was served by Mrs. John Cate, Miss Catherine Delgado and Miss Esther Veitch.

Mrs. W. E. Sawyer of 358 Riverdale drive was hostess one afternoon recently, complimenting Mrs. R. A. Waite, a recent arrival from Grand Rapids, Mich., who is residing at 132 South Adams street.

It was an informal affair and during the afternoon Mrs. Waite gave piano numbers and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr., entertained with vocal selections.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Eggleston, recently of Grand Rapids, Mich., now living at Walnut park, were the guests.

The Nortons spent eight days in Des Moines, the guests of friends, during the encampment. From Des Moines they went to Fairfield and then traveled to other cities where they have relatives.

En route home they stopped in Kansas City, Mo., for a visit and then came west to California.

EAGLE ROCK TEAM BEATS FAST NINE FORMED IN CITY

Los Angeles Flood Control Loses to Merchants In Lively Contest

The Eagle Rock Merchants were the victors in one of the best base-ball games witnessed this season at Eagle Rock park Sunday afternoon. They won over the crack Los Angeles Flood Control team to the tune of 7 to 1.

As the Merchants are strictly an Eagle Rock team, and the Flood Control boys claim over half of the members of their nine as Eagle Rock residents, the game Sunday was in the nature of the city championship and drew a large crowd of base-ball fans.

Berry pitched the entire nine innings for the Merchants, and in so doing settled the much disputed argument that the Merchants didn't have a pitcher who could last out the entire game. Berry pitched brilliant ball throughout the entire game, and while each team secured seven hits, the remarkable base running of Connett, Lundie and Berry brought in seven runs against the Flood Control's one.

Garcia, who pitched for the Flood Controls was a trifle wild in the first inning, and the Merchants got three hits and four runs, but from then on, he settled down and pitched good ball.

Stice on the Merchants at short deserves mention. He played that position to perfection and not a thing went by him. The consensus of opinion was that the Flood Control boys were simply out-generated, and while both teams secured an even number of hits, it was inside base-ball, and big league base-running that beat them.

BUILDING PERMIT GAIN IN BURBANK

October's Total Aggregated $150,000; Sets New High Record

Building permits issued in Burbank during the month of October approximated $150,000, according to a statement given out by Building Inspector Dale. This figure represents a gain of 50 per cent over the preceding month, and an increase of about $25,000 over October of last year.

The largest permit for the month was issued for the Spazier hotel building, which was recorded at $35,000. The rest of the Spazier buildings, including a store and public hall, carry a permit for $15,000.

Another $15,000 permit issued during the past month was for the Goodrich residence, which is being erected on Grinnel drive. Residences, garages and small stores are well represented on last month's permits.

A deed to the civic center site in Woodland Heights has just been received by the city of Burbank from B. W. Marks, who tendered the gift to the city several weeks ago. The deed was presented to and was accepted by the city trustees at their meeting this week.

It stipulates that the property in question shall be the site of any postoffice, city hall, library or any other civic building that might be erected in the city in the future.

Coincident with this transaction the city trustees were called on at their meeting this week to improve Sixth street from Walnut avenue to the east city limits. The petition accompanying the request was signed by W. H. Reithmaier and thirty-three other residents. It was referred to the city attorney.

Nearly all of the lots in the Bur-Glen tract, which is bounded by Sunset Canyon drive and Sherlock drive, have been disposed of to the Charles B. Fischer Realty company. It is understood that the latter firm will shortly begin subdividing the property.

MASS MEETING IS SLATED FOR EAGLE ROCK THURSDAY

Discussion of Annexation Question Will Be Held at Central School

Additional plans are going forward for the big mass meeting to be held the evening of November 9 at the Central school house in Eagle Rock to discuss the annexation question.

It is understood that in order that this important issue may have a most impartial hearing, the committee in charge has arranged that the meeting shall be a disinterested person who will act as a referee to assure that all discussions are carried out in a proper manner.

Those backing the annexation project claim that it will further the welfare of the community.

Those who are against annexation, and have facts in their possession which might not be in the session of the annexation committee, will be invited to state them, in order that they may be balanced with the facts that are supposed to favor annexation.

In addition to the open discussion, it is being arranged that have several well known speakers both pro and con, who, it is declared, will only state such facts to support their arguments that can be actually proven.

JUDGE I. CRUZAN GIVES DEFENDANT NOVEL SENTENCE

Eagle Rock Jurist Tells Speed Violator to Memorize Motor Ordinance

Judge Harold Ide Cruzan in Eagle Rock police court Saturday sentenced Gail B. Dixon of 652 North Marengo avenue, Pasadena, to memorize Section 22-A and 22-B of the State Motor Vehicle act. Dixon was charged with riding his motorcycle at an alleged speed of forty-five miles an hour in the twenty mile zone of Colorado boulevard.

When he pleaded guilty to the charge Judge Cruzan imposed this novel sentence upon him, and continued the case two weeks to give him the opportunity to memorize these sections which are claimed to contain more than 2000 words.

Milton H. Berry, Jr., who had previously pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving his car thirty miles an hour in the twenty-mile zone, and who demanded a jury trial, whereupon the judge fixed his bail at $500, later decided to change his plea to guilty.

Berry was then fined $15 and his operator's license taken away for a period of three days.

Issues Warrant

Late Saturday afternoon Judge Harold Ide Cruzan of Eagle Rock police court issued a warrant for the arrest of J. O. Koepfli of 342 South Mariposa avenue, Los Angeles.

Koepfli is said to be one of the officials of a large candy company in Los Angeles. It is claimed that he was in an automobile that was being driven by his chauffeur.

H. M. Miner, and which is alleged to have run down and injured Ted McMahon, traffic officer. The accident happened a week ago.

Miner was arrested and charged with reckless driving. When his case was called in court Saturday, upon request of his attorneys, it was continued until November 18.

The warrant issued for the arrest of Koepfli charges disturbing the peace. It is said to be based on some alleged incident that occurred at the time the police arrested his chauffeur.

Rev. Edmonds on Old-Time Gospel

When You Have Christ You Have All, Says Pastor In Sunday's Talk

Rev. W. E. Edmonds preached Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church on "The Old-Time Religion." He said:

"Jude, in bidding us 'content' for the faith which was once delivered to the saints, used an athletic word and spoke in a practical way. Paul said the 'fashion' of this world passeth away; this was a word of the stage and the mask, and he meant it was time to take the mask off, time to distinguish between the true and the false.

"There is fashion in many things; we see it in architecture and in politics. Even in religion there are fads and fancies. Always they have a bit of truth to start on, and that is what keeps them afloat and leads people to nibble at them and swallow them. These come and go, but the religion of Christ stays on. It is a force, and forces never change. It has four great underlying principles.

"The first great principle is that of a personal God, distinguished from idols. Thinking people have repudiated idol images, but they have others these days; their gods are made of the gray matter of the human brain. Law, Force, Soul of the Universe, these are latest vogue in idolatry. They 'believe divinity,' but not as the Bible teaches it. They center around what they call 'law' and leave no room for the supernatural.

"The whole of this business is hurling a deft at God; it is to avoid God. Now God is a Father. No other religion has such. He is the God who can see and hear and pity and help, to whom the soul cries out. They say it's no use praying, and hold the whole program of prayer up to ridicule. But when death approaches, then it is helpless fear. There is no such thing in the cults as a sympathizing God.

"Second, the religion of Jesus Christ stands for a self-respecting manhood. Fashion presents a very different sort of man; it traces his genealogy backward through bestial ancestors to a primordial germ, 'the religion of the frog-spawn.' Men have been rushing and spouting around denying that God made man in His own image. A great protest needs to be raised against the teaching of evolution in the high schools with no Bible allowed.

"Third, the fact of sin, which no other religion holds as does Christianity. Today all these cults ridicule sin. But the voice of God says the trouble with men is that they are sinners. Put the grace of God in, then the man is changed.

"Fourth, the fact of the salvation of Jesus Christ, reconciliation between God and the sinner. Other religions all break down here. But every thing in time and eternity depends on it.

"Our old-time religion is abreast of the past and present and future. When you have Jesus Christ you have all."

Head of Anti-Saloon League Calls Campaign Literature 'Most Insidious'

The following statement was issued to voters of the Ninth Congressional district today by Ralph Arnold, chairman of the Republican County Central committee:

"A great crisis confronts your district. Normally one of the largest Republican districts in the United States, and the recipient of more tariff favors from the Republican party than almost any other district in the country, you are faced with the possibility of electing a Democrat. This condition is the result of a reprehensible campaign against Congressman Walter F. Lineberger by his opponent, Randall.

"Referring to advertisements and statements claiming that Major Lineberger is endorsed by the 'National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment,' Mr. Montgomery, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League says: 'I do not know who is responsible for this piece of literature now being circulated, but in thirty years of campaigning against the liquor traffic I have always expected at the end of every campaign some misleading literature to come out at the eleventh hour, but I regard this piece of literature the most insidious, crafty and deceptive I have ever seen, as the letter of Mr. Lineberger to Mr. Hineley would show.'

"Taking into account the low esteem in which Randall is held among Republicans in Congress on account of his affiliation with the Democrats, because of his peculiar ideas, it seems suicidal for the Republicans of the Ninth District to jeopardize their own standing and the standing of our district by giving any consideration whatever to the claims of this political maverick.

"In order to overcome the influence of this reprehensible campaign of misrepresentation, I earnestly request all good Republicans and any others having regard for the good name of our Ninth District to work and vote for the incumbent congressman, Major Walter F. Lineberger."

CITY FATHERS OF EAGLE ROCK HOLD SESSION TONIGHT

Permit for Gasoline Station Will Be Requested; Also Drainage Systems

One of the subjects that will come before the board of trustees of the city of Eagle Rock at its session tonight, will be the matter of the issuance of a permit for a gasoline filling station at the corner of Colorado boulevard and Los Robles avenue.

Application for this permit was made by A. M. Wight of Los Angeles at a session of the board two weeks ago. Last Monday night the application was laid over until tonight to give the residents an opportunity to present a petition if they protested a filling station at this point. Inasmuch as this location is in the prescribed business zone, it is understood that under the terms of the ordinance a filling station at this point is legal.

It is also expected that Rollin L. McNitt, city attorney, will present the resolutions and intentions to secure a right-of-way for a storm drain to Linden way across Tract 5289.

Thomas Jordan, city engineer, is also expected to have the plans and specifications prepared, creating an assessment district, to provide for suitable drainage and carrying off the flood waters in the neighborhood of Delmar, Forest and Park avenues.

The board is to hold its session in the old city hall on South Central avenue, and it will undoubtedly be December 1 before they will get to meet in the new city hall.

Remarkable blending on the stage and screen, something entirely new in motion pictures. See it at the United Theatre, Eagle Rock, tonight, "ALOHA OE," the big Hawaiian success, produced by Thos. H. Ince. Also the ALOHA SYMPHONY HAWAIIANS with WILLARD MACK and ENID MARKEY. — Advertisement. 11-6

British Writer Says Dearth of Husbands Taking Edge Off Ultra-Modernity

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.
LONDON, Nov. 6.—Aha! Man is getting woman—unruly, independent, modern woman—under his thumb.

The gay young lass who has flaunted the manners of her dear old "grannie" is calling a halt to her onward march for freedom, and all because there are too few men to go around.

Just because there are too few men women are striving to model themselves after the fashion that men admire, and men don't admire "too independent" women—at least they don't admire them sufficiently to warrant a venture on the matrimonial seas with them.

Francis Gribble, noted British writer, is the Christopher Columbus of femininity who has tracked down these facts.

Aspire to Marriage

"Women tend to become (or, at any rate, to appear) what they find men like to be," Gribble says. "Few women are really satisfied with patting themselves on the back and blowing their own trumpets; nor are many of them fully contented with being told how amazingly clever they are."

Most of them aspire to be loved as well as admired, to be married as well as loved and to hold their husbands' affections after marriage, and to that end they are disposed to give quite as much consideration to men's ideals of womanhood as to their own.

"They may be expected, moreover, to give even more attention to those ideals in the future than they have given in the past, for the reason that men nowadays are relatively few and women relatively numerous."

Men Are In Revolt

"Since women, therefore, just at present are looking for husbands rather more eagerly than men are looking for wives the play of competition makes it fairly certain that the model woman will develop on the lines which man prefers."

"And man, there is no denying, is disposed to revolt against some of the characteristics of Georgian womanhood."

"He may—no doubtless does—admire the woman who makes him look foolish on the tennis court, argues him down at the debating society and tries to edge him out of his position in the office."

"But he is showing an increasing disinclination to marry her, preferring women who are a shade more efficient in the domestic sphere and a little readier to lean on him for help in his."

"Accordingly there has been a revolution in the outlook of women and signs of a 'throw-back' to the earlier ideal of perfect womanhood."

High Rent Relief Is Long Way Off

WASHINGTON.—No relief from high rents may be expected for eighteen months to two years, John Hilder, head of the civic department of the United States chamber of commerce, stated today on the basis of a survey of building conditions in all parts of the country.

Despite the fact that the past year has witnessed the most remarkable building program in history, the saturation point is still in the future, Mr. Hilder said. Building construction for the first nine months of this year already has exceeded the total of 1921.

The value of new buildings constructed up to the end of this September was estimated at slightly more than $1,500,000,000. The 1921 total was approximately $1,500,000,000.

Narcotic Evil Gains, Asserts U. S. Agent

CHICAGO.—With Japanese leading in the role of smugglers, despite the honest effort of that country to curb their activities, three nations—the United States, China and Russia—today are menaced by an alarming increase in the illicit use of narcotics, according to reports from the United States narcotic agent in the Hawaiian Islands and the International Anti-Opium Association at Peking.

Smuggling of narcotics into the United States through American insular possessions has brought this country face to face with the problem of not only checking their further use in the United States but in its insular possessions, according to William D. Allen, Jr., federal narcotic agent in the Hawaiian Islands. The illicit traffic is going on apace in this country, and leaving an increasing trail of addicts in its trans-Pacific course.

In China, according to the report, thousands will face famine this winter as a direct result of the increased narcotic traffic. Unscrupulous military governors, the association report charges, seeking to increase their tax revenues, have compelled farmers to so increase their opium poppy crops as to make certain a wheat crop by far too short. The demoralized condition of railways makes things worse.

To the north, above the Manchurian border, the growing of opium poppies is gaining headway among Russians at an alarming rate, the association report asserts. Clubs of boys from fourteen years of age upward have been organized, the purpose of which is the furtherance of the use of opium, morphine and cocaine.

Smuggling rings, with seemingly inexhaustible financial resources, bring the drugs across the Pacific to the Philippines and thence to the Hawaiian Islands and the United States. Allen advised the federal agents here. In the Philippines and Hawaiian Islands, Allen declared, distribution is made chiefly by Chinese, who obtain their supplies of drugs from Japanese smugglers. The disastrous results present a vital problem to the American government, Allen stated.

In the United States, Allen declared, Americans are implicated with Japanese and Chinese in the traffic. San Francisco is said to be the great distributing center of the country; from that metropolis well-organized bands are scattering the drugs over the length and breadth of the land.

OVERCOAT MYSTERY

The home of E. U. Emery at 329 North Kenwood street was entered Saturday night but the only thing reported stolen was an overcoat.

An overcoat was found yesterday morning at 311 North Kenwood street on the front porch of R. F. Kitterman.

However, it is understood Mr. Emery disclaims ownership.

FRIGHTENED AWAY

Prowlers were frightened away from the home of R. W. Trowbridge at 1312 East Harvard street early yesterday morning. Mr. Trowbridge heard someone around the house about 2:30 this morning. When he went downstairs someone left the house by a window.

BICYCLE STOLEN

Three bicycles were stolen this week-end. One was the property of Phillips Henderson of 443 Patterson avenue. It was taken from the rear of Ralph's Grocery at 201 West Broadway. Another belonged to Tommy Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Long of 352 Patterson avenue. The third was the property of D. E. Blue of 224 East Chestnut street.

Richest Man in All Europe Is Mystery

LONDON.—Sir Basil Zarahoff is the richest man in Europe.

Mr. Zarahoff is also conceded the titles of the "world's greatest mystery man" and the "most menacing figure in European finance."

Mr. Zarahoff is known throughout Europe as the "king maker." Governments have risen and fallen at his word.

Little is known as to his life, his antecedents, his methods, his ambitions. It is known that he was born in 1850 and is generally conceded he is a Greek by nationality, but he is at home alike in France, Russia, Turkey and England. The King of England has bestowed a knighthood on him. This is not generally done in the case of aliens.

Mr. Zarahoff is the owner of Monte Carlo, the great gambling resort, but never plays.

Mr. Zarahoff never talks to reporters and so secret has he kept his operations that no information has ever been revealed as to how he made his enormous fortune.

His headquarters are at his magnificent Hotel de Hoche in Paris and the Chateau de Ballincourt, Seine-et-Oise, France, but inquirers never get by the janitor and he has homes in every capital in Europe.

In London the Carlton Hotel retains a magnificent suite continually at his disposal. In Vienna, Rome, Athens, Constantinople and elsewhere it is the same—Mr. Zarahoff comes, stays, and goes unknown to anybody but the people he wishes to see.

Mr. Zarahoff is not an "Oil King" or a "Railway King" or anything special—he is interested in every conceivable branch of international finance, hence not even his intimates can estimate his wealth. He is head of the French oil group associated with the Anglo-Persian Oil company and has huge interests in the great British armament firm of Vickers, but he also owns banks, railroads, factories and mines without number.

Mr. Zarahoff has apparently wandered all over the world and speaks many languages with ease and fluency. Although his name never appears in public subscription lists, he has founded numerous scientific and literary "chairs" at different universities and is reputed to be a man of studious habits and great learning.

Yet, Mr. Zarahoff's name, for many years, has been associated with wars, and it is safe to say that not a war or revolution has been staged during the past thirty years, but that Mr. Zarahoff's money has found its way into one or other of the belligerents' war chests.

Democrats Work to Elect Dill Senator

SEATTLE, Nov. 6.—Democratic forces were working vigorously in the last hours of the senatorial campaign here to swing the progressive vote behind C. C. Dill to defeat Miles Poindexter, Republican incumbent. Re-election of Poindexter and the five Republican congressmen, however, is predicted by both election wagers and keen political observers.

That huge sums are being poured into the Poindexter campaign was charged today by Democratic vote marshallars. In Seattle alone, 2,000 paid workers are being used in 300 precincts to turn out the full party vote at an expense of $20,000, it is claimed. Duplicated in other parts of the state, the sum would reach at least $50,000 for eleven-hour expenses alone, Dill supporters claim.

SERMON ON CHRIST AT LOCAL CHURCH

Rev. Mullen of Community Methodist Preaches on Lord's Characteristics

"The Changeless Christ" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the Pacific avenue Community Methodist church. "One characteristic of humanity is its changing life, its decay, its short-lived span," declared Rev. H. C. Mullen. "We are like the ephemeral which are born one hour and perish the next. Our little day is soon ended. Our lamp of life rapidly burns low, flickers and goes out."

"Our earthly environment, too, is of like fleeting character. What of earth seems more permanent than the mountains. Their rugged grandeur, apparently, endows them with permanency. Seemingly they defy the ravages of time. But the law of disintegration operates here, and the centuries will see them brought down to the level of the valleys."

"Here are the giant redwoods under whose shadows you stand, while they looked down on you in silent majesty, as they had looked upon the passing centuries. They had stood there since Moses led the Israelites out of Egypt. But some of these monarchs had fallen; others were in the process of destruction, witnesses to the fact that no matter how long life is, all that is of the earth must succumb to death."

"But Christ is never a departed or departing figure." Death hath no more dominion over him. "He ever lives in the power of an endless life." His "Lo I am with you" is of perpetual application, and this fact has bearing upon the life he invites us to live.

Meets Needs of Man.

"The changeless Christ is set to meet the unchanging needs of men. These needs are abiding throughout the history of mankind. In a world marked by frequent changes and progress they persist as the fundamental experiences of men. Such are birth and death, hope and fear, love and hate, sin and sorrow. These belonged to the first generations of men, and they belong to us of today. The progress that has brought to men a richer and more abundant life materially and otherwise has left these basic elemental needs unmet. We are the same kind of people inwardly as our remote ancestor."

"The essential facts of life have not changed with outwardly changed conditions. To put an old painting into a new frame would not change the picture. To put our aged-old humanity into a changed environment, enriched though it is, and embellished though it be with the arts and refinements of culture, does not change that humanity inwardly. "Not until hate is banished and love is enthroned; not until all sorrow is assuaged, all tears wiped away; not until death is vanquished and sin is forever overthrown will man's deepest needs be met."

JESUS' TRUST IN MAN QUESTIONED

Rev. Calderwood Discusses Traits of Christ in Sermon Sunday

"Can Jesus Trust Us?" was the inquiry of Rev. C. M. Calderwood yesterday before the members of the Congregational church. "We can trust Jesus because he was honest, good, kind, loving, unselfish, wise and self-sacrificing," he stated. "We can trust him as our guide for we know that many have been guided safely by him. We can trust as our Master, Teacher, Comforter and Savior. He has promised not to save us from torment but to save us from wasting our lives if we follow him. We can trust him as Savior of the world. He has the solution for our social, industrial, and international problems. No one who has ever put their trust in Jesus has been deceived. He has never failed us."

"We can trust Jesus, but can Jesus trust us? We have made certain promises to Jesus and to the church. Can we be trusted to keep them? Jesus said, 'Follow me.' Can he trust us to follow him?"

"Can he trust us to be unselfish? He said, 'He that findeth his life shall lose it and he that loseth his life shall find it.'"

"Can he trust us to make sacrifices? Jesus has entrusted the welfare of his kingdom with us. Are we to be trusted with this work. Do we love others and do we work for the well-being of others?"

"We are asked to love Jesus himself. Can we be trusted to do so? We must never forget that we have pledged ourselves to do Christ's bidding and to be his faithful disciples."

MANUFACTURE OF ORGANS

The department of commerce announces that the census reports show considerable increase in the activities of the establishments engaged in the manufacture of organs during 1921 as compared with the year 1920. Fifty-five establishments reported products valued at $10,173,904 for 1921 as compared with sixty-eight establishments having products valued at $5,973,268 for 1920. The increase in the total value of products was 70.3 per cent.

TUJUNGA PEOPLE SHOW INITIATIVE

Folk Bent on Incorporating Town; Committee Now Seeking Funds

Prospects for the incorporation of Tujunga as a sixth class city were shown by reports submitted by various committees at this week's meeting of the Tujunga Home Government League.

Public spirited citizens generally are unanimous in desiring the fact that the people of Tujunga are slow in awakening to the fact that the incorporation project to be successful must have the full support of every resident. Leo H. Smith, of the finance committee, reported that he had been in every business house on both Sunset and the State highway soliciting aid but was turned down in every place except one. Unless the plea for funds being made by the finance committee is met it is doubtful whether the incorporation campaign will succeed.

New School Bids
Bids for the construction of the first unit of the proposed new Tujunga grammar school will be opened this week, according to an announcement just made. The new structure will be erected on the property located at Pine and El Centro streets.

According to specifications drawn up by Architect H. M. Banfield, the new school building will contain from twelve to sixteen class rooms. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete and will be along the mission style of architecture. An auditorium capable of seating around 1000 people is also included in the building's plan.

Want Street Improved
A petition requesting the county supervisors to utilize a part of the money returned from the state auto license tax in the improvement of Honolulu avenue between La Crescenta and the Phil Bequa ranch has been signed by more than 300 residents of Tujunga.

Improvement of Honolulu avenue, the petition says, would be of great benefit to all residents of the valley. And in that winter is near at hand, citizens of Tujunga are anxious to have this important thoroughfare put in serviceable condition.

Hallowe'en Party Success
The Hallowe'en party given in the Glendale city park under the auspices of the La Crescenta Improvement Association netted the association $450, or more than enough to pay off the debt on the new association fire truck, which was purchased to serve the entire east section of the valley. The rest of the proceeds will be used to erect a shelter for the truck's trailer.

Major A. F. Judson, who is representing oil operators desirous of negotiating a lease for an exploration oil well in the Sunland district, was in the valley again this week. While in Tujunga he had a lease drawn up by property owners which covers approximately sixty acres in the supposed oil belt. Until this is submitted to and approved or rejected by his principals, the project will lie dormant.

RETAIL COST OF FOOD

The department of labor reports decreased costs in the price of foods for the year period, September 15, 1921, to September 15, 1922 as follows: Kansas City, 15 per cent; Norfolk and Scranton, 12 per cent; Indianapolis and Manchester, 11 per cent; Denver, Fall River, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Salt Lake and Washington, D. C., 10 per cent; Charleston, Pittsburg

OFFERS PLAN TO AID PARISH WORK

New Method of Finance Is Suggested to Catholics By Father O'Neill

Another step towards the establishment of a parochial school in Glendale was taken yesterday when a census of Catholic children in the community was taken yesterday at the Holy Family Catholic church.

Rev. Father James S. O'Neill yesterday morning suggested a new plan of financing the work in the parish and recommended the signing of suitable pledges by every member of the church during the first week of January.

"Then we can dispense with the 10 cent seat offering at all masses," he remarked. "We can call a halt on all silver teas, cocked food sales, all bazaars and other semi-individual methods of raising money and stand for a full year on a broad and self-respecting basis of adequate financial support for our parish church, the new parochial school and the maintenance of our new convent, which please God, will shelter the good sisters of the Blessed Virgin Mary."

Big Year For All.
"Yes, the year 1923 is a big year for all of us. And it is with pride, justifiable pride, that I look back on the year 1922. We have reached a magnificent program before you. Were I to stand here till dusk I could not make you feel how proud I am of you and the confidence that I have in your help, and assistance that I know will be offered voluntarily to place 700 little children in the loving hands of the good sisters."

"September 24, the date of the formal dedication of our church, will go down in the history of the Glendale parish as an event of such far reaching importance that in time to come it will be considered the turning point or I might more truthfully say the dividing line between the big and the little, the large and the small in accomplishment."

Bound Together.
"Every human being of average mentality knows and accepts such platitudes as the growth of the mighty tree from the tiny seedling or the flow of the majestic river from a source of tiny streamlets. So it is with individual effort. Each one, puny and weak in itself, if co-ordinated and solidified and properly bound together with countless other individual efforts becomes a mighty and irresistible force which compels both recognition and its dignity as well as its strength."

"Take for example our parish of Glendale. Its history is one of sacrifice, of self-denial, of faithful and untiring workers who started with nothing, but their belief and trust in the goodness of God and the will to work and to stay on the job. Just a little band of 60 men, women and children, who, under the leadership of your present pastor, organized and established what is known as Glendale parish."

"For fifteen years patiently have you toiled and trusted. You have had faith—faith in yourselves, faith in your pastor, and faith in your God. And I want here and now to give full recognition and heartfelt thanks to each and every one of that faithful band of brave pioneers who laid the foundation for an accomplishment that is even now a miracle in this chosen land."

There is one retail store to every thirty-eight people in this country.

HUGE GAIN SHOWN IN VALLEY LAND

Non-Operative Property in San Fernando Region Increases $2,603,358

The total value of non-operative property in the San Fernando valley this year is $28,864,265, or an increase of $2,603,358, over last year according to figures compiled by H. A. Payne, county auditor. With the possible exception of Owensmouth and Chatsworth, all sections of the valley report material increases.

In the town site of Van Nuys the valuation of the lots and lands without any improvements increased from $371,660 to $605,890.

The total taxes levied in the valley for municipal, county, school and special purposes aggregate $1,332,187.63. Of this amount, the annexed portion of the valley in the city of Los Angeles bears $948,013.

As compared with these figures, the San Fernando Valley this year will raise one-fourth sixth of the total taxes collected in the county, and the valley annexes will raise about one-third of all taxes collected for the city of Los Angeles.

Record Walnut Yield
More than 400 tons of walnuts valued at approximately $150,000 will be produced from the acreage in the San Fernando valley this season, according to an estimate just made by D. E. Kibbe, manager of the Walnut Growers' Association at Lancaster. This will be the heaviest yield on record.

About 50 per cent of the valley crop is now in the association's warehouse, which is now in full operation.

Mr. Kibbe says that although there are some fine specimens of nuts coming in, their quality in general is not up to the standard. He attributes this to the sunburn the nuts received during the hot spell in September.

E. T. Lodge Home Robbed

After overpowering the caretaker on the Sherman ranch in the Van Nuys section, two robbers entered the home of E. T. Lodge, located on the ranch, and after reaching the house from top to bottom, made their getaway with loot valued at $600. The articles taken included silverware and wearing apparel.

The Lodge family was visiting at Saugus at the time of the robbery. Goodwin, the caretaker, succeeded in loosening his bonds after the robbers left the premises. We have a good description of the two culprits.

Examination of the garage by Mr. Lodge after he returned home disclosed the fact that the robbers had taken the coils from his Ford car, evidently in the belief that this would lessen pursuit.

To Subdivide Tract

Announcement is made that the holdings of the Oxnard Land company, on Ventura boulevard, southwest of Owensmouth, have been sold to a large syndicate that plans to subdivide and place the property on the market immediately. The property sold is directly opposite the site chosen for the proposed town of Girard.

HALF MILLION VEHICLES

It is conservatively estimated that the number of passenger cars and trucks in use in Canada at the present time number approximately 500,000, says Consul Johnson, Kingston, in a report to the department of commerce.

Chas. H. Randall for Congressman

Read These Endorsements of Dry Leaders

Rev. Bob Shuler, Pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Los Angeles

Charles H. Randall should be sent back to Congress, not only in payment for the splendid services rendered when prohibition was an unpopular political asset to any politician, but because a mighty bombardment from the liquor forces is certain in their efforts to bring back beer and wine, and through these agencies the open saloon. Mr. Randall fought when fighters were as scarce as the teeth of your White Leghorns. He should by all means be back upon the firing line.

Dr. A. H. Briggs, State Superintendent Anti-Saloon League of California

We certainly would not permit anyone to misrepresent your Congressional record, which from the standpoint of the Anti-Saloon League is 100 per cent good.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, General Secretary Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals

There is nothing that would help the cause of prohibition like having you back again. I knew we greatly needed you and that our work would be crippled without you. No one could give our cause the night and day leadership that you did. No one ever did before you came—no one has since you left. There is only one Randall.

Senator E. E. Grant, President California Law Enforcement League

Randall is recognized the nation over as being the foremost and most effective advocate of prohibition in the national congress.

Dr. Charles Scanlon, President World Prohibition Federation and General Secretary Presbyterian Board of Temperance

"Hon Charles H. Randall was a member of Congress for six years. He made all friends of righteousness, and the whole country his debtor by his consistent and persistent efforts in behalf of sobriety and patriotism. The confidence and respect which he had and deserved for his work in behalf of prohibition, was not second to that enjoyed by any other member of either house of Congress."

William Jennings Bryan

"As a believer in prohibition I would, if a citizen of California, be proud to vote for Charles H. Randall because of his splendid service to prohibition when the fight was at its height; as a democrat I would be glad to vote for him because he stands with the masses on all economic questions."

California Christian Advocate (Methodist-Episcopal) San Francisco

Mr. Charles H. Randall, well-known advocate of prohibition throughout the United States and a regular contributor on this subject to the Advocate, should receive our full support.

Wayne B. Wheeler, General Counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, in a Letter to the Flying Squadron

Charles H. Randall's record in Congress was 100 per cent dry. He would run true without question upon every vote that came up to sustain and enforce the Eighteenth Amendment.

BEAUTY CHATS

F. Booth Gives His Views About Stores

C. W. Kinnan Writes About Lawyers' Bill

Pacific-Southwest Review

CITY OR COUNTRY?

If you had to bring up a family of children on so scant an income that there would be none left over for pleasures and the child had to find his own, in which place do you think he would have a better chance, in the city or the country?

Which is the luckier—the poor child in the city or in the country? Maybe you think they are neither of them lucky. If you compare them with the children of the well to do perhaps they are not. (You notice I say perhaps.) But if you compare them with the children of the well to do of other lands, or any other age, they are.

What the City Gives Free
Imagine yourself a child with no money furnished you for amusement but with a will to be happy, and a big city at your disposal. Couldn't you have a pretty good time? In any large city the shop windows are in themselves a free display of things beautiful and interesting; and the child with no immediate hope of possession can enjoy their contents without the envy and discontent an older person would feel. Then there are playgrounds, parks, zoos, free concerts, parades of the circus, lodge or distinguished visitor variety, libraries with perfectly unlimited stores of pleasure between the cloth covers of their tens of thousands of volumes. In the winter, if it is a northern city there are skating places kept clean by the city, very likely there are toboggan coasts, too. In the summer there are probably free baths and tennis courts in some park or playground.

How, you may ask, is the child to get the equipment for these pleasures if his family cannot give him any money. Again the city is ready to help him. No child who is willing to make the effort to earn money lacks for the opportunity in a big, free spending American city. The money children are paid for their time today is something astonishing to us who remember the penny and nickel tips of our childhood.

What the Country Gives Free
And now, how about the child in the country? What does he have for free pleasures? Well he, too, probably has a library in the nearest town, excellent very likely, though small. He doesn't have parades but he has town fair day and the church picnic and the country fair, if it's near enough, and some kind of community Fourth of July celebration. And then he has the infinite possibilities of field and wood and stream at his command. In the summer he can go swimming or go berrying or fishing. In winter in the north there is skating and coasting and shooting, and trapping and ice fishing. He, too, need not lack for pocket money if he has the least ambition. I know two boys who not only have plenty of pocket money but bank a goodly sum every winter from their trapping.

A Girl Can Have Almost as Much
I discover that I have unconsciously done something that I didn't mean to do. My child is not just a child, he's a boy. Well, after all that's not strange for it has always been one of my big regrets that I could never be a small boy, for I think they have the best time of anyone in the world. But thanks be to the change in attitude toward the sexes, most of the pleasures I have enumerated above could be a girl's too, in these days.

A CHAT TO MOTHERS

The last time I wrote a beauty chat particularly for young members I suggested that they wear loose and attractively made smocks. For the first thought of the young mother is quite apt to be one of dismay at the idea of losing temporarily, and perhaps permanently, the slim lines of her girlish figure. She need not lose them permanently if she takes care; later I shall give her many suggestions about this. Temporarily, of course, the figure must change and perhaps seem ugly to her for a while. But smocks will make her appear youthfully slim for many months. This first thought about her self is not selfish as it might appear. It is quite right and proper for a girl to pride herself on having and keeping an attractive figure. It is no more vain of her than to be proud of good health. Besides, her pretty face and attractive figure have endeared her to the man she loves best; it is quite natural that she should fear the loss of any of her pretty characteristics. Such fears are groundless, as she will soon find out.

To keep her prettiness during this often trying period she must have sufficient rest, otherwise her face will look tired and little lines will form around her mouth, while her whole figure will lose its spring and elasticity. While resting she may be doing useful work. In fact, if her first thought is for herself her second will be for the trousseau of the tiny baby. This can be sewn while she lounges in a comfortable chair, or better yet, sits propped up in the corner of a couch with her feet straight out before her. This is a graceful, comfortable position and one in which it is easy to sew. Fortunately she will want the trousseau hand-made for at this time she should not use a heavy sewing machine.

Fatty—The only way to reduce the legs and ankles is by means of vigorous exercise or massage, unless one reduces the whole body. The latter method is much more effective since it can be accomplished so easily through right choice of foods.

Worried—You are taking very good care of your skin by cleansing it at night and closing the pores with ice; yet you may be so exposed to soil that such a cleansing will not check the formation of blackheads. Give your complexion a weekly treatment for this trouble alone. A professional one would be best, and if you cannot continue with them, you can repeat them yourself at home. Most busy women in large cities keep their skin clear in this way.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.
All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Editor The Evening News: "Oh, Mr. Booth, why don't you build bigger stores instead of the small ones already in course of construction?"

Well, sir, I've been in business all my life and I have found that the one man, or man and wife store makes out better than the big store with its high rent and enormous overhead expenses, a host of clerks, looking at each other six hours out of the eight or ten hours each day, whereas, the little fellow is busy all day long with one thing and another and at the end of the week he does not have to pay out all his receipts for a lot of unnecessary help. Ask the big fellow who is losing out every month. My wife and I made good, never too proud to clean our own windows, sweep out the store, make our own deliveries, etc. To prove my contention I have already leased three out of the four stores which are nearing completion at corner of East Broadway and Kenwood, and have turned three or four applicants away for grocery, bakery and restaurant.

Yours,
F. BOOTH.

SOME ESCAPE TAXES

Thirty billions of dollars in this country is not liable for taxes. It is invested in tax-exempt securities. "It represents about one-tenth the total of the property of the United States. Hence, 90 percent of the property is paying all the taxes," says the Illinois committee on public utility information. The committee comments: "No way has yet been found by legislation to restrict the issuance of tax-free securities, and, as a result, the growth continues at an alarming rate. Unquestionably, the farmer is the last man to be benefited by tax exemptions. His property is all in sight of the assessor."

These wills are drawn by lawyers, but they are on the payroll of the trust companies, and are working, not for the testator, but for their employers, and so advise to their interest, of course. This service is free (?) to the testator now, but his estate pays mighty heavy for it in the end.

Any lawyer who would draw such a will, appointing himself executor or trustee, would be promptly disbarred, as he ought to be.

Vote "Yes" for proposition No. 24.
Respectfully,
C. W. KINNAN.

If you have done an injury, go like a man, and acknowledge and repair it.

Editor The Evening News: I presume that everyone in Glendale fortunate enough to have a little bank account has received the very telling worded circular letter telling why proposition No. 24, the so-called lawyers' bill, should be defeated at the election on Tuesday next. I received mine.

The truth of the matter is that the bill makes exceptions wide enough to permit the banks and trust companies to give free advice on every one of the subjects, and to prepare any of the papers mentioned in this letter.

But, strange to say, the real milk in the cocoanut is singularly concealed by absolute silence. Does any one with a grain of gumption suppose that these big concerns are spending the vast sum of money they are spending in procuring names of referendum, printing and mailing campaign propaganda, indulging in expensive newspaper advertising as they are, just out of the goodness of their hearts to give the people the benefit of their free (?) advice? Even a child knows better.

The real and big idea is to enable them to continue to write wills, creating long-time trusts, naming themselves as trustee and executor, and containing the most unheard-of provisions.

The sample form of will put out by one of these big companies, which I have before me, includes provisions that permit the trustee to speculate with the securities of the estate, permits it to invest the funds of the trust in securities forbidden by the laws of the state, shuts out a successful contestant of the will with $1, and numerous other harsh provisions, even including a provision forbidding the widow to demand her share of the community property. They most conveniently forget to mention any of these things in their letter.

These wills are drawn by lawyers, but they are on the payroll of the trust companies, and are working, not for the testator, but for their employers, and so advise to their interest, of course. This service is free (?) to the testator now, but his estate pays mighty heavy for it in the end.

Any lawyer who would draw such a will, appointing himself executor or trustee, would be promptly disbarred, as he ought to be.

Vote "Yes" for proposition No. 24.
Respectfully,
C. W. KINNAN.

If you have done an injury, go like a man, and acknowledge and repair it.

Every man is presumed to know the law. The Lawyers' Bill, Proposition No. 24 on the ballot, prohibits the well-informed banker, realtor, accountant, architect and other business man from making a practice of giving to his customers and friends the benefit of his knowledge of the particular laws known to him and which relate to his business or calling.

It is dangerous to be ignorant of the law, yet the Lawyers' Bill would make it a crime in many cases for the business man to communicate his knowledge. If the Lawyers' Bill does not become a law, the inquiring public will continue to possess the right to choose their own advisers. If one desires or needs to employ an attorney he may do so. If he merely wished information in connection with his business transactions, he can go to the man he trusts and whom he believes to be competent to advise him properly.

If the Lawyers' Bill becomes effective the business man will be muzzled and the public will be compelled to pay cash for service which is now cheerfully and, usually, freely given by bankers, real estate men and others. The bill makes it a crime punishable by imprisonment or a fine, or both, for one who is not a licensed attorney to give advice unless he prepares an "ordinary business agreement."

In the transaction of the daily affairs of men many simple questions of law necessarily arise and banks and trust companies for many years have made a practice of helping their customers with advice and with forms of ordinary legal instruments used in daily business. Many customers ask banks to render this service because it promotes the safe, economical and expeditious conduct of business.

It is the purpose of the Lawyers' Bill to make a crime of this simple service and the result of the law will be to place a burden of useless expense on the public.

The Bill proposes to extend the exclusive functions and privileges of licensed attorneys. Until recently it was never asserted that the lawyer possessed a monopoly of knowing the law and of giving advice. The lawyer has been safeguarded and protected by the courts and the law in his recognized field of professional work, and the bankers and other business men desire to protect the lawyer and his business in this well-recognized field. Objection is made, however, to a law which forbids the giving of advice and rendering service which for generations has been permitted to persons other than licensed attorneys. A customer whose question is difficult or whose matters are complicated or involved, or who is entitled to some legal remedy, or who needs the guidance and direction of an attorney, is always referred to a lawyer, but on simple matters of general knowledge and business practice in which a well-informed man is competent to assist, the customer has been saved the expense, inconvenience and delay of consulting an attorney.

The Bill is ambiguous and uncertain in its terms so that it will require years of litigation to determine its exact meaning. In the meantime the business man will be subjected to unwarranted arrests and prosecutions for endeavoring to render a service to his customers. The act fails to give a definition of what constitutes the practice of the law. It also makes certain exceptions so that any person may prepare "ordinary business agreements" and may give advice incidental to the preparation thereof, but the bill fails to define what an "ordinary business agreement" is and still makes it a crime to give advice other than that concerning such an agreement.

The interests of the public will be best served by the defeat of this act at the forthcoming election. This result can be accomplished by voting "No" on Proposition No. 24.

SUBMITTED TO VOTE

TO COMPEL PEOPLE TO HIRE LAWYERS. Submitted to electors by referendum. Adds Section 164 to Penal Code. An Act invented by lawyers, introduced by lawyers, passed the legislature by the votes of lawyer-politicians, signed by a lawyer-governor, now advocated solely by lawyers. Makes it a CRIME for any person not a lawyer, or any company, or bank or trust company, or any officer or employee to make a practice of giving people free advice on ordinary matters of business in which any legal questions are involved. The law would compel all such persons, when asked for advice, to say, "You must hire a LAWYER" and "PAY HIM A FEE." Does not in any manner regulate the practices of lawyers, nor afford to the public any measure of protection against existing abuses.

More Fees for Lawyers.

SCIENCE HEALING, CLAIMS SPEAKER

Clarence W. Chadwick Is
Lecturer at Church on Sunday Afternoon

A lecture on the subject of Christian Science was given Sunday afternoon in the Glendale church at Maryland and California, by Clarence W. Chadwick, C. S. B., of Omaha, Neb., the speaker being a member of the board of trustees of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The lecturer was introduced by Arthur P. Catre, first reader of the Glendale church.

A resume of the lecture follows: Some of the terms employed in Christian Science to define deity in human consciousness are Love, Truth, Life, Spirit, and Mind. To one trained to believe in a God of wrath and vengeance, these synonyms for God, when studied in the light of Christian Science, reveal an entirely new sense of heaven and earth and man.

Love's invitation, given to the world through Christ Jesus twenty centuries ago, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Mat. 11:28), is reiterated today in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. It comes with healing in its wings, revealing the sacred mission of Christ Jesus, to teach and to demonstrate the lesson of divine Love. If we would become acquainted with the Father, we must learn to love, for what saith the Scripture? "Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love" (1 John 4:7-8).

The Saviour Mrs. Eddy's teachings have thrown so much light upon the life and mission of the great Saviour of men, that the whole world rises to call her blessed. She says in substance to her followers: "If you profess to love him, keep his commandments." Then she explains, in unmistakable terms, how we are to prove our obedience.

When once asked whether she believed in the atonement of Christ, she replied: "I do; and this atonement becomes more to me since it includes man's redemption from sickness as well as from sin. I reverence and adore Christ as never before" (Misc. p. 96).

Demonstration is the power of divine Love made practical to humanity. One cannot grasp the meaning of scientific demonstration nor become a successful practitioner until one learns how to feel and to express love for all mankind. The true Christian Scientist strives to abide in a healing consciousness, one characterized by genuine humility and confidence, as well as thankfulness for God's goodness and mercy.

Does Christian Science heal the sick? is a question that is answered today in a most practical way. In all parts of the civilized world may be found living witnesses to the healing power of Christian Science. These recipients of God's blessings will tell you that they owe a debt of endless gratitude, not only to the one God and to His Son, Christ Jesus, but to the beloved Leader of the Christian Science movement, who, in the year 1866, discovered the science of Christianity, and labored unrelentingly and unselfishly to make it available to the whole world.

Right Understanding A correct or scientific understanding of God heals because it cannot help healing. Healing through Christ, Truth, takes place as naturally as the shining of the sun. Every ray of spiritual light that floods human consciousness declares the presence, power, and glory of God and His Christ. How, then, can it avoid dispelling the dark shadows of finite sense? Truth heals because it has no affinity with error; Love heals because it has no affinity with matter.

Treatment in Christian Science means doing something for the sick, according to an understood Principle, instead of experimenting upon them with poisonous drugs, and then waiting for days, weeks, and sometimes for months, to see whether they get well. Christian Science treatment gives sight to the blind and hearing to the deaf, by doing something for them which no other form of treatment ever has done or ever can do.

FIGURES ALWAYS TELL THE TRUTH

The business-getting power of The Glendale Evening News in publishing classified liners is 74 per cent greater than the Glendale Express insert for the month of October.

The total number of inches of classified liners published in The Evening News for the month of October was 6,981

The total number of inches of classified liners published in the Express insert for the month of October was 4,003

That October was no exception to the rule of The Evening News being a business getter, the records of September show The Evening News 75 per cent ahead of the Express insert in volume of classified liners. The figures for September:

Total number of inches in The Evening News 6,488
Total number of inches in the Express insert 3,701

Display advertising in The Evening News showed for the two months ending October 31, a lead of 28 per cent over that of the Express insert for the same period. The figures:

The Evening News display 43,003
The Express insert 33,560

The reason for this remarkable volume in favor of the Evening News is very evident—The Evening News is a 100 per cent Glendale publication, and a complete newspaper in itself. The Express insert is conducted mainly as a "business feeder" for the Los Angeles Express.

The Evening News prides itself on being a Glendale product. The above figures show Glendale business interests are for "The Home-Town Paper."

LIGHT OPERA TO BE GIVEN HERE

'The Mikado' Rehearsals
Being Held; Additional Talent Is Sought

Plans have been announced for the presentation in Glendale of the Gilbert-Sullivan light opera, "The Mikado," under the direction of E. J. Albright and management of J. Zimmer.

Rehearsals for the opera are being held at 8 o'clock every Thursday night at the Legion hall at 610 East Broadway and Mr. Albright is anxious to include in the cast any young men or women who are interested in studying and taking part in the production.

When the opera is ready for production a decision will be made as to what organization or cause the proceeds will go, it is stated.

Mr. Albright, who is directing the rehearsals, is well known to musicians both in the west and east. Before coming to Glendale he was a member of the Columbia Quartet and took an active part in eastern musical affairs.

Mr. Zimmer, who will serve as stage manager, has had wide experience in this part of theatrical life, having served as stage manager at the Bush-Temple and College theatres in Chicago.

Chiropractors Issue Plea for Bill No. 16

The following statement is issued by an organization favoring the measure on the ballot sponsored by the chiropractors:

"Every true Californian who believes in the American traditions of fair play and equality should vote 'yes' on initiative bill No. 16, which will be on the ballot on election day, November 7.

"This bill is sponsored by the chiropractors of California, and proposes to create a state board of chiropractic examiners who will operate without expense to the taxpayers and will be entirely self-supporting. The measure would grant the board the power to issue licenses to chiropractors who have graduated from accredited colleges—and will remedy the apparent injustice practiced on the chiropractors by the state board of medical examiners.

"Americans maintain the inherent right to choose their own physician, but the state board of medical examiners has hampered the chiropractors in their great work of healing the sick. The state has granted boards to dentists, druggists, veterinarians, medical graduates and others, but so far has failed to do the same for the chiropractors.

"Twenty-two states have already granted separate examining boards for the chiropractors, and California has its duty plainly ahead. Bill No. 16 will remedy this manifest injustice, and permit the chiropractors to be governed by a board of their own and at no cost whatever to the taxpayers of the state."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S COASTER.

One morning, when the boy and girl animals awakened in their woodland homes, they saw a little covering of snow on the ground. It was not a great deal, for Jack Frost just sent down a small sample of the white flakes.

"I'll try them and see how they look," laughed Jack Frost to himself. "Soon it will be winter and I'll be sifting down many a storm of snow. But now I'll just give them a wee bit."

But this "wee bit," as Jack Frost called it, was enough to make Johnnie and Billie Bushy-tail, the squirrels, squeal with delight. As for Jackie and Peetie, the puppy dog chaps, they barked, wagged their tails and then began tumbling over each other in the snow.

"Come on, Jackie!" barked Peetie. "We'll have a sliding down hill coast before school."

"Have we time to get out our sleds?" asked Jackie.

For the snow had come rather early—even before Thanksgiving—and none of the animal children had thought to get out their sleds or skates as yet.

"We can coast down hill on a piece of board—anything to have a little slide before school," laughed Jackie.

"That's so," barked his brother. Hunting around in their back yard they found some boards and soon they were coasting down a little snow-covered hill on these make-believe sleds.

"Oh, we're going to coast, too!" chattered the squirrel boys, as they ran over to join Jackie and Peetie. The squirrels found some strips of birch bark from a tree and these bits of bark served them for sleds.

While the animal boys were having lots of fun in the early snow, along hopped Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Come and have a coast!" barked Jackie.

"What's that? Come and have some toast, did you say?" asked Uncle Wiggily, for he was twinkling his pink nose so fast, trying to keep it warm, that he didn't hear right. "Who has any toast?" inquired the rabbit.

"Some hot toast would taste fine on a cold, snowy morning like this," said Uncle Wiggily.

"We didn't say TOAST! We said come and have a COAST—slide down hill on a sled!" laughed Jackie.

"You may take my piece of bark," offered Johnnie Bushy-tail, politely.

"Thank you, I'm afraid it's too small," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Try my board," suggested Jackie.

"I'm afraid your board has too many splinters in it for an old rabbit like me," laughed the bunny uncle.

"You ought to coast in some way," whined Peetie. "It's lots of fun."

"Oh, ho! I've just thought of a way to get me a sled!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Wait a moment, boys, and I'll soon be back to go coasting with you."

Uncle Wiggily quickly hopped back to his hollow stump bungalow.

"Let me take the large dinner tray, Nurse Jane, if you please," he said to his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Are you going to carry breakfast over on the tray to any of your friends?" asked Nurse Jane, as she brought out the big tin thing on which many dishes could be piled.

"No, I'm going to coast down hill on it!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Jackie and Peetie and Johnnie and Billie are having an early coast, and I'm going to do the same. I'll use the dinner tray for a sled."

With the tray under his paw, Uncle Wiggily hopped back to the hill. Johnnie and Billie sat down on their pieces of bark and down they went sliding. Jackie and Peetie sat on their boards, not minding the splinters in the least, and down they coasted.

Uncle Wiggily sat down on his large, tin tray, gave himself a push, and down the hill he went. At least he went part way down the hill. Then, all of a sudden, his tray struck a stone, the tray stopped short—but Uncle Wiggily went on sliding—all by himself!

Down the hill he coasted without anything to sit on.

"Here, Hold on. Stop! Wait a minute!" cried Uncle Wiggily to his tray, for away it went coasting down the hill separately.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the animal boys.

And when Uncle Wiggily slid to the bottom of the hill he had to laugh and twinkle his pink nose, because it was such fun. Then he caught his coasting tray, and the next time he slid down hill on it he held tightly to

HIGH FREQUENCY BUZZER.

This buzzer has been designed for both laboratory and radio work. It combines pureness of tone, simplicity of adjustment and durability.

The frequency is approximately 800 cycles, but depends on the setting of the knurled adjusting screw.

As the current required for the operation of the buzzer is approximately only 30 milli-amperes, it may be operated for long periods of time from small batteries. One dry cell will provide sufficient potential to operate this buzzer satisfactorily.

One of the noteworthy features of this buzzer is its freedom from sparking. This is important where pure tones are required.

MEASURING INSTRUMENTS

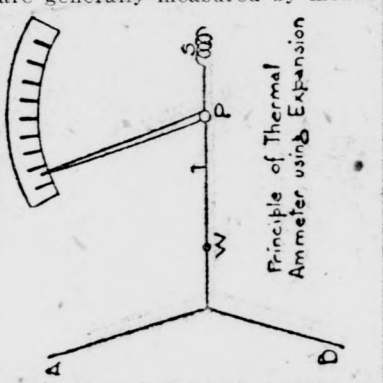

From what has gone before, it will be plain that the presence of an electric current can be known by such effects as the production of heat, magnetic action, or chemical changes. All of these effects are greater with a strong current than with a weak one, therefore all can be used to give an idea of the magnitude of a current. Instruments have been invented which take advantage of each of these effects, but some are more conveniently used than others. Those about which the student of radio particularly needs to know are based on two effects of the electric current; the magnetic effect and the heating effect.

Meters can be used either to indicate the current in amperes or the power in watts.

He had a fine coast, Uncle Wiggily did, with the animal boys. And the last time he went down, the Fuzzy Fox came rushing out at the bottom of the hill, to catch the bunny. But Uncle Wiggily bumped his tray into the Fox, striking him on the nose, and the Fox yelled "Wow!" and ran away.

"Oh, what a wonderful adventure!" laughed the bunny. And next, if the sun, shining on the pussy cat, doesn't tickle his whiskers and make him sneeze, you shall hear about Uncle Wiggily and the cornstalks.

of instruments which depend on metal. They are therefore called "thermal" ammeters. These are again divided into two main classes, the expansion and the thermocouple instruments. The first takes advantage of the lengthening of a metal wire or strip when it is heated. The diagram herewith illustrates the principle. The current to be measured flows along the wire AB, which is of a material having sufficient resistance to cause it to become hot. In heating, it stretches somewhat. That per-

"Hush!" she hissed through the closed door. "Oda Yorimoto sleeps. It is his wish that he be not disturbed."

For a moment there was silence beyond the door, and then the woman grunted, and Barbara heard her turn back, muttering to herself. The girl breathed a deep sigh of relief—she had received a brief reprieve from death.

Again she turned to the window where, with the short sword, she commenced her labor of enlarging it to permit the passage of her body. The work was necessarily slow because of the fact that it must proceed with utter noiselessness.

For an hour she worked, and then again came an interruption at the door. This time it was a man.

"Oda Yorimoto still sleeps," whispered the girl. "Go away and do not disturb him. He will be very angry if you awaken him."

But the man was not put off so easily as had the woman. He still insisted.

"The daimio has ordered that there shall be a great hunt today for the heads of the sei-yo-jin who have landed upon Yoka," persisted the man. "He will be angry indeed if we do not call him in time to accomplish the task today. Let me speak with him, woman. I do not believe that Oda Yorimoto still sleeps. Why should I believe one of the sei-yo-jin? It may be that you have bewitched the daimio," and with that he pushed against the door.

The corpse gave a little, and the man glared his eyes to the aperture. Barbara held the sword behind her, and with her shoulder against the door attempted to reclose it.

"Go away!" she cried. "I shall be killed if you awaken Oda Yorimoto, and, if you enter, you, too, shall be killed."

The man stepped back from the door, and Barbara could hear him in low converse with some of the women of the household. A moment later he returned, and without a word of warning threw his whole weight against the portal. The corpse slipped back enough to permit the entrance of the man's body, and as he stumbled into the room the long sword of the Lord of Yoka fell full and keen across the back of his brown neck.

Without a sound he lunged to the floor, dead; but the woman without had caught a fleeting glimpse of what had taken place within the little chamber, even before Barbara Harding could slam the door again, and with shrieks of rage and fright they rushed into the main street of the village shouting at the tops of their voices that Oda Yorimoto and Hawa Nisho had been slain by the woman of the sei-yo-jin.

Instantly the village swarmed with samurai, women, children, and dogs. They rushed toward the hut of Oda Yorimoto, filling the outer chamber where they jabbered excitedly for several minutes, the warriors attempting to obtain a coherent story from the moaning women of the daimio's household.

"Why Man of Today Is Only 50% Efficient" is a little book now being given away by us. It tells interestingly why "that tired dragged-out feeling," headaches and biliousness are but forerunners of more serious troubles, if we only knew it, as well as keeping us but half fit for the strenuous life necessary for the success that should be ours.

It also tells how, by the scientific use of simple pure warm water this condition can be permanently corrected and we can be one hundred per cent. every morning in the year.

Medicine has no part in the result, over a million enlightened Americans have read this book in the past few years, and are now delighted with the health they enjoy through the simple home practice which it recommends.

Ask us today, while you think of it, for this interesting book.

ONE KILLED EVERY HOUR BY AUTOS, FIGURES SHOW

To Be Exact, There Occurs Fatal Accident Every Forty-two Minutes

Automobile accidents in the United States in 1921 caused the death of 12,500 persons—one person killed every forty-two minutes day and night. More than 200,000 persons were injured. The fatalities on highways last year were more than the American war, while the injured far outnumbered our 221,000 wounded in the world war.

That the automobile hazard is growing steadily is shown by the fact that although accidents on the railroads are decreasing automobile crashes in 1921 increased 4 per cent over 1920.

For more than two years the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has placed men at crossings where large numbers of automobiles pass. These observers note the machine crossing and take down the license numbers of those whose drivers fail to take any precaution.

In 1920 these observers noted 298,000 vehicles and, according to their records, 25,000 drivers failed to take any precautions at highway crossings. In one month of this year 16,177 automobiles were checked by the railroad's observers and 2972 drivers were reported as having failed to stop, look or listen before crossing the tracks. During the first four months of this year 58,806 machines were observed and the failures reached seventeen per cent.

Few Accidents From Skidding

The impression prevails in some quarters that asphalt pavements are slippery, especially when wet, and consequently are dangerous to drive over. If this were true, accident records would show a large percentage of cases where skidding was the cause of the accident.

A three months' investigation recently made in Maryland discloses the fact that 90 per cent of automobile accidents are due to speeding. Of fourteen fatal accidents, two were caused by failure to heed the warning at railroad crossings; four by speeding; four by driving on the wrong side of the road, and four by reckless driving. None of the fatal accidents was caused by skidding.

Statistics from city records in San Francisco on automobile and motorcycle accidents, show 3609 accidents in 1921. Of this number only 138, or 3.8 per cent were due to skidding. Of the 103 of these occurring on asphalt pavements 75 per cent were the result of carelessness. Four-fifths of San Francisco's paved streets are of the asphalt type. Owing to rains in winter and fogs in summer, they are in a wet condition most of the time, so the slight percentage of accidents due to skidding is at once apparent.

The tabulation of an average thousand reports on causes of automobile collisions, filed with the claim department of the Inter-Insurance Exchange, Los Angeles, shows only 6 per cent of the accidents were due to skidding. Forty per cent of these skidding accidents resulted from imprudent attempts to turn too quickly; 40 per cent from overspeeding and only 20 per cent or 1.2 per cent of all accidents were due to unavoidable skidding.

Many Collisions In Iowa

A rigid investigation by the Iowa State Highway commission during 1921 showed that of 4683 accidents which occurred in that state in which 359 persons were killed and 4195 injured, 114 accidents or 2.4 per cent of the total were due to skidding, and Iowa has practically no asphalt roads. The great percentage of accidents in Iowa were collisions. Of these there were 1210, with 1010 persons killed and injured.

Asphaltic pavements have not caused any appreciable number of automobile accidents. While the tractive resistance of asphaltic concrete is relatively low, it is not so low as to cause excessive slipperiness. As a matter of fact, statistics prove that asphaltic pavements are less slippery than are the other so-called permanent types.

Champion Of Education

Richardson has repeatedly said that he will effect the saving of millions of dollars without hampering any educational function. He is a man of his word—do not let the unscrupulous politician tell you otherwise.

(From the Dixon Tribune)

The big thing in this campaign is to put the machine out of business and run the State of California in the interest of the people. That is what Richardson has promised to do. There are lots of things being talked about that do not bear on the main issue, or are of smaller importance, brought up to confuse the voter, divert his attention, or fool him into a wrong course. It is the old game of rattling the voter. None of the critics try to impeach Richardson's record as a public servant, for they know that would be too raw an attack. They cannot tell you that his private life has been questionable; they cannot tell you that his private business has been a failure; they cannot tell you that he did not accomplish great saving for the taxpayers when he was state printer; they cannot tell you that the office treasurer was run at great waste; they cannot tell you that he failed to save the people vast sums by placing state funds at a higher rate of interest. They cannot tell you that it would be so patently false that the recoil would knock the wind out of them for the rest of the campaign. Therefore, the campaign of camouflage. The voters intend to stick to the main track, just as Richardson is sticking to the main issue. He is not backing up on his promises before the primaries. He defied the machine at the state convention, in the face of threats to wreck him. His biggest job will come when he tackles the work of tax-saving at the state capitol, and he will need all the backing that he can get. The wise voter will not be distracted or lured off the main trail. Stick by Richardson and he will stick by you.

Editor The Evening News: I desire to call the attention of yourself and the readers of your paper to two of the amendments to be voted upon next Tuesday. There has been very little said or published in regard to these two very important amendments. The first one I will call to your attention is No. 29, indicated on the ballot as Land Franchise Taxation. This proposed amendment is nothing more nor less than the off-attempted single tax proposal, very cleverly disguised under a non de plume. The proposer of this amendment has in mind the confiscation of all land values, which would result in absolute ruin to our state. Single tax means that all taxes shall be raised from one source, namely, the land. This would free from taxations all improvements on land, such as houses, office buildings, commercial buildings, etc., of great value; it would free from taxation railroads, stocks, bonds, money, and all other kinds of personal property. Single tax places the burden of taxation entirely on the land, and the proposer would assess the taxes in the following manner, for example: "A" owns a city business lot and leases the lot to "B" on a long term lease for $1000 per year; then the single tax law passes and the state immediately taxes said lot the full rental value, or $1000 per year. What is the result? "A" has no lot because the state collects all the income, while "B" uses the lot at the same rental, but pays no taxes on any improvements he might wish to build on the lot. Another example: Suppose "A" has a lot, either business or residence, and negotiates a loan from his banker to erect thereon a modern residence or business building. After completion he leases the entire property to "B" for a consideration of $2000 per year. Then the single tax law passes and, as before, the state assesses the land with its full rental value of $2000 per year, which immediately destroys the loan value, and, besides, "A" loses the entire property because he does not have sufficient income remaining to pay the interest on the mortgage. This law, if passed, would result in every home owner losing title to the land his home is built upon. He would have to "No" on No. 29.

GO TO POLLS! IS MINISTER'S PLEA

Who Is to Govern State? Questions Rev. Rasmus During Sermon

"The Authority of Right Over Wrong" was the topic of the sermon yesterday morning at the First Methodist church.

"There are two eternally antagonistic forces that war in this world: the divine and demonic," exclaimed Rev. Henry I. Rasmus. "The two cannot live on the same planet and be at peace. Just now the two seem to be in terrific combat for supremacy."

"Who is to govern the state of California? Those who nullify the constitution or those who uphold it; the bootlegger or the sober-minded; the low and the vicious or the patriotic and pure? Let me here announce an eternal law. Congress cannot abrogate it; parliaments cannot set it aside; no assembly of men can make it void. It is the authority of right over wrong; purity over impurity, and patriotism over lawlessness."

"The upper class has the right to rule. I do not mean by the upper class those made upper by accident of birth or by influence of wealth but made upper by strength of character and by lofty and noble purposes. These have a right to take the reins of authority and drive the chariot of state."

"Next Tuesday we go to the polls to discover who shall have the mastery. I need not tell you Christian men and women how you ought to vote for you will go to the polls and vote for the purity of the state and the safety of your own hearthstones. These have a right to take the reins of authority and drive the chariot of state."

"Jesus Christ, the saviour of men, is the hope of the world, war-torn Europe and all. When he shall come to be Master, then shall be brought about the purity of the state, the purity of society, the purity of the world. God hasten that happy day."

Lies Nailed by Editor

Prominent Stockton Editor Tells the Truth About 16 and 20.

The following editorial is reprinted from the San Joaquin Advocate, issue of October 25th, 1922.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INS. CO. CIRCULATES LIES ABOUT CHIROPRACTIC AND OSTEOPATHIC BILLS.

The Metropolitan Insurance Co. is circulating pamphlets urging the voters of California to defeat Chiropractic and Osteopathic Bills. These pamphlets state that drugless practitioners (meaning Chiropractors) would be allowed to administer opium, cocaine, morphine, and other habit forming drugs and thereby cause drug addiction to be greatly increased. This statement is a barefaced lie.

Section 7 of the Chiropractic Bill plainly states as follows: "One form of certificate shall be issued by the Board of Chiropractic examiners, which said certificates shall be designated—License to practice Chiropractic, which license shall authorize the holder thereof to practice Chiropractic in the state of California as taught in Chiropractic schools or colleges; and also to use all necessary mechanical and hygienic and sanitary measures incident to the care of the body, BUT shall NOT authorize the practice of medicine, surgery, osteopathy, dentistry, or optometry NOR THE USE OF ANY DRUG OR MEDICINE NOW OR HEREAFTER INCLUDED IN MATERIA MEDICA."

These same pamphlets also insinuate that if the Chiropractic and Osteopathic bills are passed, the children could not have safe milk they would get tuberculosis, you would get serious food poison and many would die. Lies and more lies.

What have the Chiropractic and Osteopathic Bills got to do with the State Food Inspector? (Please page Ananias.)

We are inclined to wonder how much the American Medical Association had to pay the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to make such misleading statements and thereby place themselves in bad repute with the several million advocates of Chiropractic and Osteopathy.

We also wonder why the State Medical Association doesn't do its own lying.

The pamphlet would further have us believe that the creation of a board of Chiropractic examiners and Osteopathic examiners would entail considerable expense to the state. As a matter of fact both bills 16 and 20 plainly state that expenses of said boards shall be paid from the examination fees.

We detest LIES and LIARS.

Again, let me call to your attention Amendment No. 27. This amendment should be passed as it would practically eliminate the possibility of such iniquitous measures as the single tax being presented to the voters every two years on the ballot. This measure provides that a petition presented by any one to the secretary of state, asking for any changes in laws affecting taxation, be signed by 15 per cent of all votes cast for governor at the last preceding election in which a governor was elected, instead of only 8 per cent, as now required. Vote "Yes" on No. 27.

Medical Liberty Is As Valuable As Religious Liberty— DEFEND YOUR RIGHT TO IT

NUMBER 20 on the ballot this coming Tuesday is the simplest act you will have to vote on. There is no joker in it.

—Number 20 simply provides that instead of compelling osteopaths to be examined by the Medical Board that these graduates shall be examined by men who know osteopathy.

—At present there are eight medical men and two osteopaths on the Examining Board. Number 20 creates a separate examining board for, by and of osteopaths, and it doesn't cost the voter one single penny. All expenses are met by a $25 fee that the graduate pays for examination.

—It isn't the present law that is changed by Number 20—it is the administration of that law.

—Look at the list of subjects below. These are studied, over the same course of years, by medical men and by osteopaths. Then the osteopaths add 1000 hours of study on osteopathy itself. They are more thoroughly schooled than students of medicine alone.

—Is there any reason why their qualifications should not be considered by men as well versed as themselves in the profession they intend to enter, or is there any reason why YOUR right to choose osteopathy should be any more questioned than your right to choose your own religion?

Here's What They Study

The law is the same for Osteopaths and Medical doctors. It requires for admission to the examination for a license, the successful completion of the following four years' course of study.

FACTS ESTABLISHED BY COURTS

Superior Judge Wellborn, after an exhaustive investigation and trial, found and decided that the Osteopathic College more than met the requirements of the law and was "in all respects maintaining a high standard of instruction to its students."

Judges Conrey, Shaw and James of the Appellate Court reviewed the evidence and unanimously decided that, in all respects, both as to quality and amount of education given, the Osteopathic College had proved that it complied with the law.

The Supreme Court affirmed the decision.

ABNER DOBLE'S Master Motor Car

On Demonstration

In Glendale. The Doble Steam Motor Car Will Be On Demonstration Thursday, November 9th, Between the Hours of 9 A. M. and 12 Noon

For twelve years Abner Doble placed his unusual mechanical genius to the task of solving the problem of the steam automobile without the "bugs" of a pilot light, a troublesome boiler, stops for water and without the annoyance of waiting several minutes to get up steam. The Doble Steam Car that will be on demonstration sets new standards in the motor car industry. This car meets fully each of the stringent requirements of Abner Doble, whose ideal of a motor car is so high that a new set of standards is necessary to gauge its worthiness. The Doble Car is so superior in its construction, so simple in its design that the power plant of this marvelous motor car is guaranteed for 100,000 miles.

Without adjustment the Doble Steam Car can use any grade of fuel—gasoline, kerosene, distillate—are equally efficient and in economy excels any comparable car. A pint of oil in 500 miles is the consumption of this car. Through the exclusive electric control feature covered by the Doble patent, the Doble Car generates steam in a few seconds from "cold," by simply turning a switch and advancing the throttle and the car glides silently and easily into motion.

CHRISTIAN DUTY, TOPIC OF PASTOR

Religious Training Should Be Shown In Daily Life, Is Rev. Cole's Claim

The Central Christian church yesterday was well filled at both services.

"Helping Jesus Raise the Dead" was the topic of the morning sermon. It was based upon "the resurrection of Lazarus."

"God does not do for man what men can do for themselves," remarked Rev. C. A. Cole. "God expects the puny arm of man to have something to do. Jesus seldom wrought any great deliveries or miracle of healing without the co-operation of man. The same is true in the Old Testament times as well as the New. Notice how God and man helped each other in preparation for the exodus from Egypt."

"In order to bring the dead to life—dead, in trespasses and sin—God requires His people to take away certain obstacles. One is the stone of inconsistency. Several other elements of defective character enter into inconsistency. The spirit of worldliness and worry, not in keeping with our professed belief in the transforming power of the love of God; an eagerness of worldly pleasures and display, which is out of harmony with devout Christian living; Christian duties neglected in the home and family life."

"Our lives ought to show at home for Christ. They ought to be impressed in our meeting with our customers at the store or with

England Refuses to Get Out of Turkey

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 5.—Following a meeting of the allied high commissioners at the office of the British high commissioner, a note was sent tonight to Rafet Pasha and Hamid Bey, representatives of the Ankara government, refusing the demand of the Turks that the allies evacuate the city.

Later Rafet Pasha notified the allied high commissioners that the Turks would not interfere with allied occupation of the city if the allies did not attempt to interfere in the internal affairs of Turkey.

The Turks requested that Turkish gendarmes assist in policing Constantinople as they are not patrolling Thrace.

A serious situation has been precipitated by the Turkish coup in overtaking the Constantinople cabinet was resigning, but that Sultan Mohammed VI, who was deposed by the Ankara government last week, still refused to abdicate.

Those with whom we do business during the week day."

The theme of the evening sermon was "The Lost Christ."

"The devil goes to church as well as you do!" exclaimed Rev. C. A. Cole. "Ah, brother, keep your eye not on self and on the neighbor but steadfastly on the Lord, Jesus Christ."

The claims of Calvary are exacting. The demands of the cross are tremendous. You must go back to the place where that was done that came between you and God.

"I spoke not long ago of the greatest need of our city. If Christ is its greatest need, then the losing of Christ, will be its greatest misfortune."

PASTOR TELLS OF REVIVING HOPES

'Christ Does Speak to Us,' Says Dr. Winnard in Sunday's Sermon

It was not such a gloomy sermon, after all, that Dr. Winnard preached at the Trophic Presbyterian church yesterday morning from the text, "All hope that we should be saved was then taken away."

"If the darkest hour is just before the dawn," he asserted, "then it must have been near morning for the weary sailor on tossed sailors on the Mediterranean. They had started their voyage for a safe journey. The south wind was in their favor."

"But the wind changed. The mariner in whom they had reposed all confidence was now at his wit's end. The once staunch ship was now straining at every seam. All the resources common in such emergencies had been used and failed. The anchor dragged. They lightened the ship but it only drove the higher on the rock-strewn coast. They cast off the tackling of the ship, but this only added to the dangers that menaced them."

"Is it any wonder that all hope that they should be saved was taken away, and that they wished for the morning?"

"In that hour of dilemma and of danger, Paul stood forth in their midst and said to them, 'The Lord whose servant I am, and whom I serve, stood by me this night,' and went on to give them the message of hope and comfort. But strict obedience to the word of this captain of our salvation was enjoined and following this they all escaped safe to land."

"There is a greater salvation to which these thoughts apply. Man has imagined many things, and gone so far as to use all human resources but still the storm of temptation, of sin and of death rages about him. Then perhaps realizing his lost condition, he calls upon God and Christ, the great captain of our salvation appears and speaks to him, and hope returns, life is saved and salvation is assured.

Many Arrests Result of War on Liquor

LOS ANGELES.—Completing a survey of the warfare on liquor law violations by the Internal Revenue Department, Collector Rex Goodcell announced yesterday that from January 1 to October 1 of this year there had been 3803 arrests in California.

In January the number arrested was 222, February 320, March 553, April 516, May 365, June 244, July 503, August 519 and September 461, a total of 3803. It is estimated that the arrests for the remainder of 1922 will reach 1350, giving a total for the year of 5153.

Collector Goodcell said that in 1914, before the Prohibition Act became effective there were 13,490 retail liquor dealers engaged in business in California from whom the federal government collected an annual license tax of $25 each, or total of $337,240.

Under the minimum fine of $150 for liquor law violators who plead guilty, that has been set by the Federal Courts in California, the government's receipts from fines imposed on the 5153 offenders could easily aggregate $772,500 for 1922 which would be $435,250 in excess of the amount of the Internal Revenue Bureau collected from licensed retail liquor dealers in 1914. It is pointed out that fines running from $300 to $1000 which the Federal Courts assess in contested cases might overcome the loss of fines through acquittal and maintain the average fine of $150.

In addition to the $150 criminal fine imposed by the Federal Courts Collector Goodcell assesses every person who is convicted of selling liquor a minimum of $1200. This is for violation of the Internal Revenue laws.

Without taking convictions where imprisonment is imposed in addition to fines into consideration, federal officials assert that the policy that will stamp out the liquor business is the one that imposes more penalties than the traffic will stand.

There are our sorrow and our tears are dried. He speaks in our despair and hope revives. He speaks in our heaviness and our bitterness and peace returns. He speaks in our weakness and our strength returns. He speaks in death and the valley of the shadow has no fears. Christian, sinner, He speaks today. Will you hear his voice and give him thine heart?"

DEMOCRATS QUIT WOOLWINE WAGON

Old Line Members Unable to Follow Candidate; Boom Is Now Collapsed

By J. B. SANFORD
Editor Ukiah Dispatch—Democrat and former State Senator and Democratic National Committeeman

Taxation is the issue and the farmers, taxpayers and home-builders realize this more each day, and think that Richardson is the safest man. Hop and grape growers know that the election of Woolwine would not open the market for the sale of an extra half of hops or box of grapes. They say that Woolwine is a false alarm and would keep the state in continual turmoil.

Richardson's plans for building a budget are along scientific lines and will eliminate waste, extravagance and graft and will smash the machine by cutting off all useless employments. In building his budget he will provide for the most important things first, such as schools, humanitarian functions, and then the state departments, and lastly the state employees. His first budget will call for a reduction of $15,000,000 below the budget of 1921.

Machine's Budget
The combination Woolwine machine in making its budget will put the cart before the horse and start backwards. The first thing they will provide for will be the 11,000 state machine henchmen; then the new Woolwine machine of 3000 will have to be provided for—such as "non-partisans," "progressive" democrats, "progressive" republicans, "progressive" larcenists, ex-saloon men, bootleggers, political hacks and bums. No provision will be made for "deserving democrats." Then the rest of the state government will be provided for and lastly the schools. The budget now far exceeds the budget of 1921 with its $91,000,000, and the funds are exhausted. What's the remedy? Soak the taxpayer. Soak the taxpayer.

Woolwine Boom Collapses

The politically wise say that Woolwine's boom is in a state of utter collapse, and illustrate it with the humorous story by a prominent Democrat who heard Woolwine at a street meeting up the valley. Woolwine came in with a hooray for light wines and beer and was soon gone. Presently a bunch of thirsty people rushed up in autos and asked for Woolwine and was told that he had spoken and gone. They were visibly disappointed and asked if he had opened the saloons and were told "No." Asked if he had left a drink for them and were told "No." They then asked if he intended to give them light wines and beer and were told that Woolwine was running for the wrong office to do that; that national legislation would be necessary to effect the change. "Well, then, why did not Tommy run for U. S. Senator?" Is Tommy "spoofing" us and trying to get votes by false pretense?"

And with that they threw down his cards and left muttering all kinds of vengeance.

Supreme Satisfaction

The disappointed and disappointed who had hoped that light wines and beer might again be permitted for beverage purposes and that Woolwine would secure them, now fully realized that Woolwine favored the use of light wines and beer.

When they get old and the shadows lengthen and they sit around the fireplace at night with their children's children playing on the hearth, and think of the cup that cheers, it will be some consolation to know that Woolwine favored the use of light wines and beer.

And when they climb the hill and start down the other side to the sundown of life and can hear the old white horse of Death pawing at the door and can hear the crash of worlds, and the dissolution of nature tells them they must pass on, and as they lie down for the last long sleep and close their eyes in repose, it will be a supreme satisfaction indeed to know that they had followed the use of light wines and beer.

Gravestones Await Stabilized Mexico

MEXICO CITY.—Upon the stabilization of affairs in Mexico, particularly in connection with transportation, depends the placing of headstones in the American National Cemetery here. Since 1910 headstones have been on the way to Uncle Sam's first national cemetery, but because of conditions along Mexican railways shipments have been delayed.

It is reported here that the stones are completed in Vermont and are only awaiting transportation. Although handicapped by inability to secure the proper headstones, Thomas O'Shay, caretaker at the cemetery, has had each grave marked with a marker.

There are at present 1558 graves in the cemetery, which was established in 1851 to take care of the American soldiers who had fallen in the battle of Mexico, in 1847. There are 750 of these soldiers buried in one grave.

Although the cemetery was established by the government in 1851, it was not made a national cemetery until 1886.

POINTS ONE WAY UNTO SALVATION

Rev. Ernest E. Ford Declares Christ Only 'Door' to Enter Kingdom

The First Baptist church was filled to capacity Sunday morning. The newly organized choir under the leadership of W. H. Carver sang a very pleasing anthem and led the congregation in singing some of the old hymns.

Rev. Ernest E. Ford took as his text the words found in John 10:11, "I am the Good Shepherd." "The Pharisees professed to teach men how to get into the Kingdom without Christ," he asserted. "It cannot be done! Any man or woman, cult, fad, ism, sect or insect who teaches that there is any other door to salvation than the crucified and risen son of God is a thief and robber."

"There is no ecclesiastical council in the world that can keep a soul out of the kingdom if it comes through the 'door' Christ. And there is no council, board, church, ordinance or creed that can let a soul into the Kingdom except through the 'door' Jesus Christ. And that under-shepherd who seeks to lead his flock into the fold by any other door than the way of the cross is a thief and a robber."

For Sake of Others
"Jesus says, 'I am the good shepherd.' He is 'good' in contrast to those who are 'hirelings' who are more interested in their wages than in the sheep which have been committed to their care. That is the difference between a good shepherd and a bad shepherd. The good shepherd gives his life for the sheep while the bad shepherd leaves the sheep when danger arises and runs away."

"The Good Shepherd came not for himself but for the sake of the sheep. He says, 'I came that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.' Temporal life is hard to define. Who can hope to define eternal life?"

"Jesus says, 'This is life eternal that they might know thee, the only true God and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.'"

"Science says, 'Life is the continuous adjustment of internal organism and external environment.' "The Son of God by his atoning death on the cross adjusts the soul of man with the eternal God and the result is life everlasting."

Ex-German Kaiser Now on Honeymoon

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 6.—Within the seclusion of the former German Kaiser's castle, isolated by cordons of guards who refuse to allow strangers to approach, Wilhelm Hohenzollern and his new bride, the former Princess Hermine of Reuss, today began their quiet and uneventful honeymoon.

Doorn already has settled down into its placid every day life, except for a few sight-seers and a few correspondents and foreigners who remained behind hoping against hope that they would get a glimpse or perhaps, a statement from one or both of the principals.

The marriage passed off according to the program drawn up by the former emperor with military precision. During the ceremony the black and white flag of the Hohenzollerns flew over the castle, but there was no firing of salutes nor flaring of bugles such as would have been the case if the former war lord was still upon his Potsdam throne.

'DAY OF UPSETS' IN 'GRID' MEET

U. S. C. and Stanford Battle; Play One of Best Games Reported This Year

Last Saturday could be aptly termed "the day of upsets" in Southern California "grid" happenings in that no less than three contests went contrary to general predictions. The trio include the U. S. C. frosh defeat at the hands of the Stanford newcomers; the tie game between the U. S. C. S. and the Whittier Poets, and the victory of Terb White's Los Angeles high riders over the Long Beach Jackrabbits.

The U. S. C.-Stanford freshman battle which ended with the north-erners on the wide end of a 9-0 score, was one of the best played and most keenly contested tilts of the season.

Coming on the fields as the underdogs the Cardinals got down to business, and, after being hit throughout most of the game, stuck doggedly to their purpose and finally came out on the long end of the tally sheet. Although it must be admitted that the red-jerseyed invaders from Palo Alto were on the receiving end of the breaks all afternoon, it should also be stated that Coach Hunt's boys played the best game of the season.

Lefebvre Drops Ball

The Cardinals' lone touchdown came at the beginning of the third quarter when Henry Lefebvre, who had been performing in phenomenal fashion all afternoon, dropped the ball on his own thirty-five yard line upon being knocked out by a Stanford tackler. A Cardinal man recovered, giving his team the oval in U. S. C.'s territory. From this point they marched to the goal line, through the efforts of "Wild Bill" Cook and Fred Solomon.

In summing up the comparative strength of the two squads, the U. S. C. frosh line men, with the exception of Dorsey at end and Thompson at tackle, were completely outclassed. It was the weakness of the linemen that enabled Solomon to break through and block Dorsey's boot after the touchdown. Otherwise the score would have been tied. In the backfield the Trojan yearlings, with the great full-back—Lous-talot and Lefebvre—shining throughout, had it "on" the Palo Altoans. Cook, with his numerous phenomenal end runs and run-back of punts, was easily the star of the Cardinal squad although Captain Solomon was the best man on the field when it came to defensive play.

The 6 to 6 tie game between Whittier and Southern branch was an utter disappointment to the followers of the Blue and Gold Cublets. Prior to the contest the latter were dropped to bowl over the Poets by at least two touchdowns, but the playing of "Puss" Thompson of the Quaker crew was in itself sufficient to make Branch eleven husky. Had the game lasted five minutes longer it is more than probable that the Cubs would have gone home on the little end of the horn.

Last, and most surprising of all, was the Long Beach-L. A. "High" affair. When the average football fan read the result he'd believe it. The Pioneer, who the week before had been trounced by the light Franklin eleven, entered the game with the full expectancy of being overwhelmed by a landslide score, but the efforts of Dennis and Thomas of Coach White's crew enabled them to turn the entire city of Long Beach upside down. The victory, however, can be traced directly to a fluke; L. A. only took a down coming when Thompson picked a fumble and ran eighty-five yards with all of the Jackrabbit squad on his heels. It was an off-day for Long Beach from beginning to end, the ever dependable toe of Captain Drury, considered by many to be the most formidable dropkicker in the city league, failing him in his attempt to convert the Jackrabbit touchdown.

Bears May Battle

W. and J. New Year's

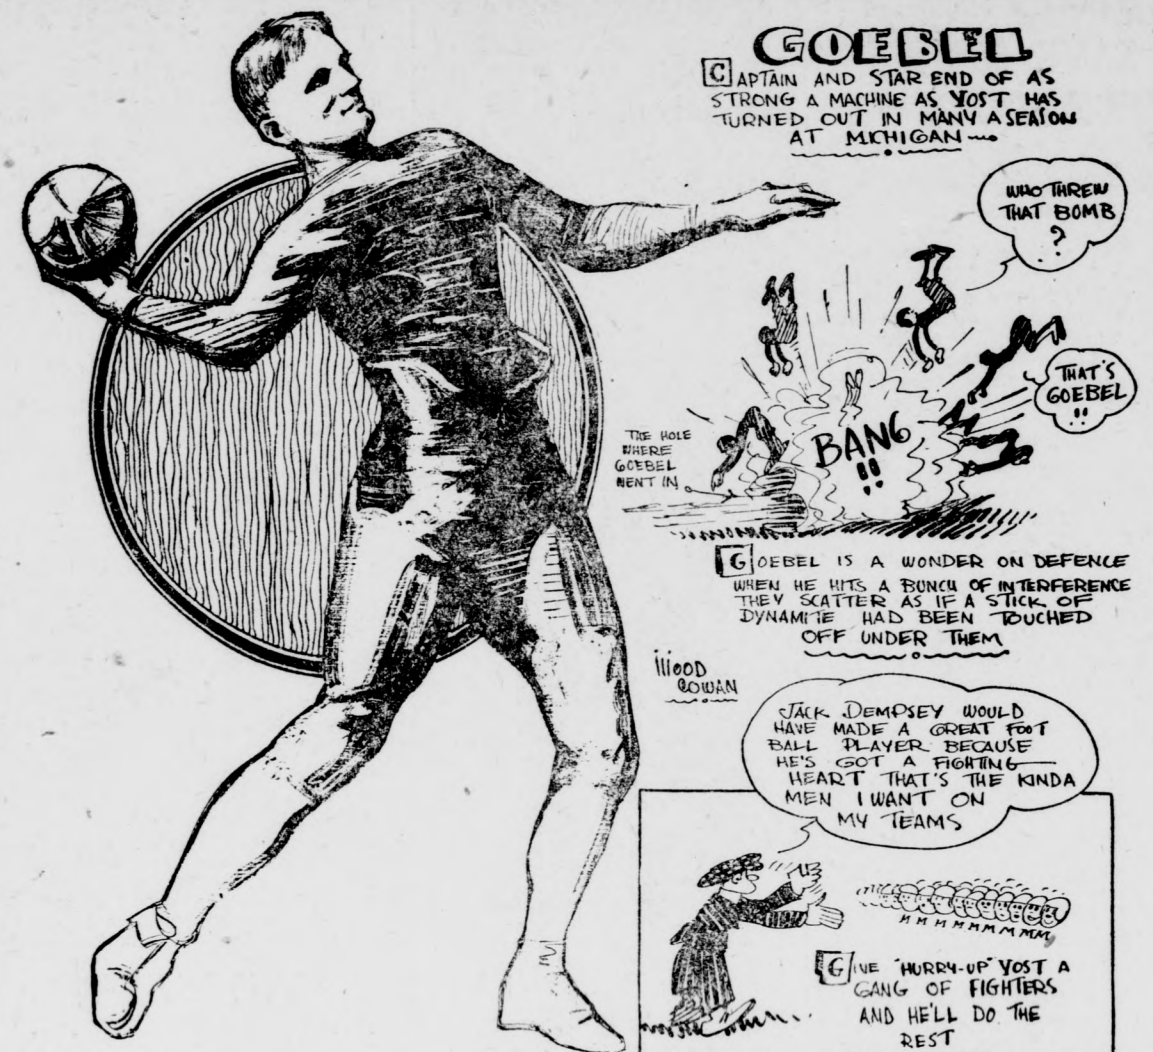

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—California vs. Washington and Jefferson State, Pasadena New Year's day. Such a contest loomed on Southern California's football horizon today following the victory of the undefeated W. & J. eleven over the powerful La Fayette eleven at New York Saturday, 14 to 13, and the crushing defeat sustained by Penn State, the squad invited to play at Pasadena January 1, at the hands of the Navy.

Contrary to reports, Penn State has not yet been tendered a contract to meet the leading eleven on the coast in the annual East vs. West classic, it became known today.

Further, it was learned that Washington and Jefferson has asked to be given another chance to show in this section and as a result of the Presidents' great victory over La Fayette, officials of the Tournament of Roses and the Pacific conference are reported to be seriously considering withdrawing their quaker invitation and sending a "feeler" to the school which has held the Bears nothing to nothing score.

UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL CAPTAINS By WOOD COWAN

Time flies! Fact is Old Pop scampers along at an amazing clip, seemingly faster when associating him with one thing than with another.

Take football. To one who has played the game, it is almost impossible to down a passionate longing to get into a mole skin every time fall comes around, no matter if it has been fifteen years since your foot last smacked the old pig skin with a resounding wallop; and you have a sneaking feeling, as you watch a game, that you could get down onto the field and drive the team or carry the ball in a more efficient and spectacular manner than any of the huskies on either eleven are doing it.

It certainly gets under your skin. That brings us back to Pop Time and 1896.

That was a long way back. A lot of us can't remember, but at a recent dinner given to Yost (famous the nation over as "Hurricane" Yost of Michigan) in New York, he related, play for play, and every move almost, of the Lafayette - Pennsylvania game played that year. Lafayette had some crack players that season, but none of them so formidable as her great forward, Yost. Lafayette beat Penn 6 to 4 and the victory was an unparalleled upset, for the Quakers had played such sterling football that she had forced the Big Three, Yale-Harvard-Princeton, to recognize her equal and convert the Big Three into a Big Four.

And Yost was the star of that game, and after twenty-five years could relate and live again through every play! Soon after graduation Yost took Horace Greeley's advice and we next heard of him as a coach at Nebraska, where he turned out a great team. Then to Kansas. Here he developed the best team the Jayhawkers ever had. In 1900 the situation on the west coast was about as it is today—California first with Leland Stanford a poor second. In 1899 the Bears had won the annual contest with Stanford 20 to 0. Yost went to Palo Alto and developed an eleven that beat California 5 to 0 the following season. This was the most thrilling contest in west coast football.

The following year Yost went to Michigan. In his first four seasons at Ann Arbor the maize and blue did not lose a single football game. For twenty-two years Yost has been guiding the fortunes of Michigan football, and, with the exception of two or three seasons, his teams have been formidable machines. This season is no exception. Captained by Paul Goebel of Grand Rapids, the Wolverines bid fair to capture the conference title.

Her crew of veterans are working smoother than a Broadway crook. Goebel and Kirk form two wing men as good as you'll find many a day. The first named is a knockout on defense. He is about the toughest, hard driving and untiring player imaginable and a grand kicker to boot. Kirk is the former Notre Dame star. Take two ends of their east coast tour on any team with the modern overhead game—and well, what more do you want!

Kipke at half is a fine open field runner and Uteritz at quarter, drives his team with rare skill. So again the Yost of Lafayette, famous as a great player in 1896, and coach to more winning teams perhaps than any other in his profession, is coming through again with a great winning aggregation.

U. C. BEARS OUT FOR 'CHAMP' GOAL

Decisive Washington Win Encourages Supporters; Play U. C. Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—It appeared certain today following the victory over the Washington State college that the California Bears were headed for their third straight championship.

Washington, which held the University of Washington, the most feared team in the conference, to a 16-13 score, fell in easy fashion before the charging Berkeley backs to the tune of 61 to 0. This overwhelming score is conclusive proof, the Golden Bear supporters aver, that next Saturday at Seattle their team will win.

Stanford, whose early season performances were not generally thought to be indicative of a fast, first division team, by virtue of its 17-7 victory over the University of Nevada which held the University of Southern California to a lone touchdown, is given an excellent chance in its game next Saturday with the southerners. California, with a total of 264 points for the season to date is the biggest scoring machine in the country, leading Gilmour Dobie's Cornell team by five points. The Bears' line has only been crossed twice.

Leads Point Getters

Duke Morrison, the versatile California fullback, with a total of 85 points, leads all of the other point getters in the country.

Football followers here today were convinced that the 61-0 defeat administered by California was not a true indication of the Washington Aggies' ability, however, giving two reasons in support of their contention.

First, Washington was badly crippled by injuries sustained in their recent "big game" with the state university and came south out of their best line men, one of them an all-coast selection last year.

Secondly, that the team was forced to leave Pullman Tuesday, remaining on the train until Saturday morning without a chance to have a workout. The players left the train and climbed into their football suits.

Although California is conceded an excellent chance to win and by a comfortable score next Saturday when they meet the University of Washington, the northers by virtue of their two weeks' layoff, their weight and the fact that they are playing at home and accustomed to a wet field are the most feared team in the conference.

Fred Krigbaum Held On Bigamy Charge

LOS ANGELES, November 6.—Fred Krigbaum, said to be a well known baseball player of the Dallas club of the Texas league, was in jail here today facing a charge of bigamy, preferred by his first wife.

According to the story of his wife, the former Miss Marian Krigbaum of Norales, Ariz., and Krigbaum were married in 1918. Later he returned after playing a season with Dallas, but soon left her. Believing she had been deserted she trailed Krigbaum to Los Angeles. After learning the "other girl's" name Mrs. Krigbaum sent her a telegram purporting to come from "Fred" stating he had a broken arm, which the girl answered in person. The arrest followed.

Clara Phillips' Love Grows Cold, Claim

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—The fiery love for her husband, Armour L. Phillips, that is alleged to have driven Mrs. Clara Phillips to commit the "hammer murder" of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, for which she is now on trial, has cooled to full breaking point, according to reports today.

Those who have followed the case closely and who have observed Mrs. Phillips and her husband particularly asserted that Mrs. Phillips is only "tolerating" Phillips' attentiveness for the sake of appearances.

The coolness shown by Mrs. Phillips toward her husband was said to have developed rapidly after her trial started and when defense Attorney Herrington decided that he would not call Phillips as a witness in her behalf.

The trial was resumed today with the testimony of Dr. E. H. Anthony that Mrs. Hannah Jackson Weaver, Mrs. Phillips' mother, is in a serious condition as a result of an epileptic seizure brought on by worry over her daughter's difficulty. Mrs. Phillips, the defense contends, inherited epilepsy from her parents.

Following Dr. Anthony's testimony, Herrington began the reading of the twenty page hypothetical question on which the defense alienists were to give their opinion that Mrs. Phillips was insane at the time of the murder. The question required more than an hour to read.

The four defense alienists ready to testify that Mrs. Phillips is a victim of psychic epilepsy and is a low-grade moron with the mentality of an 8-year-old child were Dr. Charles Allen, Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, Dr. E. B. Hoag and Dr. W. B. Kern.

The WORLD OVER By FRANKLIN B. MORSE. PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

In view of the vastly greater number of participants in strenuous outdoor games, and the relatively smaller number of injuries and deaths that have occurred in the last decade, the good results are being shown of the scheme whereby all youngsters in a large proportion of the public schools of the country who expect to take part in any form of athletics are compelled to undergo a rigid physical examination.

Any boy who reveals the fact that he has a weak heart or any other organic trouble is prohibited from participating in any form of exercise which will place any strain on his particular weak point. He is advised what form of exercise and recreation he can adopt without injury to himself.

No claim is made that there are fewer accidents today than a year ago. Perhaps this is not a fact. But it also is a fact that there are fewer accidents in proportion to the greater number of competing athletes of today.

Many of the deaths that have occurred in football and other sports, both in the past and at the present time, are the result, not so much because of the fast and strenuous play, as the inability of the boy himself being able to meet and withstand the shocks which it is known he must meet. When it was too late, it has been found that some organic trouble existed which, if it had been discovered before the lad was allowed to play, would have banded him from that game to some other activity less strenuous in character.

Supervision of the young athlete has also extended to a supervision of the conditions under which he participates in his games. In the past there were many cases of concussion of the brain and other serious injuries. Investigation showed in many instances that the boys were playing a game of football on a field totally unfit for the game. The writer recalls that, some years ago, a lad was killed in a game of football by a concussion of the brain. It was later found that the boys had been practically playing in a stubble field, and that it abounded in loose stones, and that being thrown he had struck one of these. Of course, the fatality was set down and charged to football, a manifestly unfair thing to the game.

Few serious accidents ever occur to college athletes who are surrounded by trainers, coaches and all the proper implements for play. This fact is what has opened the eyes of the educators of the youngsters who were the main sufferers. The wisdom of this extra care now is being demonstrated. It should be practiced everywhere.

Berkeley Silent on New Year's Classic

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 6.—No comment was forthcoming today from University of California athletic authorities on the report from Los Angeles that there was a possibility that Washington and Jefferson, last year's representative of the east in the annual New Year's East vs. West classic at Pasadena, might replace Penn State, already officially announced by the Pacific coast football conference as having been invited.

It was said that the matter was entirely in the hands of the conference and that California so far had taken no part in the negotiations and did not expect to until overtures were made by the conference regarding the participation of the Bears in the annual contest.

"We are going ahead with our regular schedule and leaving the matter entirely to the conference to handle," said Graduate Manager Luther Nichols.

"While I am under the impression that an invitation has been tendered Penn State, I am not informed regarding the status of the negotiations other than has been publicly announced by the president of the Pacific coast conference."

Wild West Pictures Barred From Screen

WASHINGTON.—Bill Hart may bring back to delighted America all the thrills of the wild and woolly west, but he will never ride across the silver sheet in Java.

Hair rising dramas of the old time West, such as pack the movies of the highly civilized United States, are strictly banned in far off Java, as are any pictures containing a "criminal suggestion," reports American Consul Parker at Soerabaya to the Department of Commerce.

Outside morals are not regarded very highly in Java, Mr. Parker's report indicates. About 35 per cent of all imported pictures either are refused by the censors or cut.

American motion pictures, however, are riding on the crest of the movie craze which has swept the land of coffee.

LOS ANGELES, November 6.—Fred Krigbaum, said to be a well known baseball player of the Dallas club of the Texas league, was in jail here today facing a charge of bigamy, preferred by his first wife.

According to the story of his wife, the former Miss Marian Krigbaum of Norales, Ariz., and Krigbaum were married in 1918. Later he returned after playing a season with Dallas, but soon left her. Believing she had been deserted she trailed Krigbaum to Los Angeles. After learning the "other girl's" name Mrs. Krigbaum sent her a telegram purporting to come from "Fred" stating he had a broken arm, which the girl answered in person. The arrest followed.

Clara Phillips' Love Grows Cold, Claim

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—The fiery love for her husband, Armour L. Phillips, that is alleged to have driven Mrs. Clara Phillips to commit the "hammer murder" of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, for which she is now on trial, has cooled to full breaking point, according to reports today.

Those who have followed the case closely and who have observed Mrs. Phillips and her husband particularly asserted that Mrs. Phillips is only "tolerating" Phillips' attentiveness for the sake of appearances.

The coolness shown by Mrs. Phillips toward her husband was said to have developed rapidly after her trial started and when defense Attorney Herrington decided that he would not call Phillips as a witness in her behalf.

The trial was resumed today with the testimony of Dr. E. H. Anthony that Mrs. Hannah Jackson Weaver, Mrs. Phillips' mother, is in a serious condition as a result of an epileptic seizure brought on by worry over her daughter's difficulty. Mrs. Phillips, the defense contends, inherited epilepsy from her parents.

Following Dr. Anthony's testimony, Herrington began the reading of the twenty page hypothetical question on which the defense alienists were to give their opinion that Mrs. Phillips was insane at the time of the murder. The question required more than an hour to read.

The four defense alienists ready to testify that Mrs. Phillips is a victim of psychic epilepsy and is a low-grade moron with the mentality of an 8-year-old child were Dr. Charles Allen, Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, Dr. E. B. Hoag and Dr. W. B. Kern.

Shipments of electrical equipment during August shows that American telephone equipment continues to hold its own in foreign markets, $261,385 worth being shipped during August. This is a substantial increase over the July figures, although not equal to the amount exported during earlier months of the year.

CHARGE ANSWERED BY LINEBERGER

Congressman Has Evidence to Prove Dry Record Is 100 Per Cent Perfect

The Republican national administration pointed to the emergency tariff bill, a reduction of $1,000,000,000 in the national debt, the payment of the same amount in interest, the treaties of peace, friendly relations established with many nations, steps taken to stabilize Mexico, establishment of prosperity and declared: "Whatever be the result, it will be accepted by both Democrats and Republicans as constituting a victory. The Republicans will consider their continued control of congress as an endorsement of their party's two-year control; the Democrats will consider it a sizeable victory to recover most of the ground lost in the great Republican tidal wave of 1920."

In Great States
It is in the great states like New York, Ohio, Indiana and New Jersey, that the Democrats figure their chief gains. In all these states the outlook twenty-four hours in the advance of the opening of the polls is that many congressional districts will be won back by the Democrats.

Ohio, for instance, has a solid delegation of twenty-two in the present house. The Democrats claim twelve of these tomorrow and Republican leaders are inclined to agree that they will pick up nearly that many.

Indiana has a solid Republican delegation of 13 and the Democrats claim a majority of these; Missouri had 14 Republicans and two Democrats in the present house and it would not be surprising to see the political line-up completely reversed.

Richardson by Big Vote
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Campaign managers were getting in their final licks today. With the opening of the polls only twenty-four hours off, they settled down today to check up odds and ends that had been overlooked—and await the voters' verdict.

The re-election of Senator Hiram Johnson by an overwhelming vote was practically conceded in all circles.

Because of the runaway race made by the senior senator, interest centers tomorrow largely in the gubernatorial contest, on the result of which there was wide conflict today of opinion in the opposing camps.

Friend W. Richardson, Republican candidate, in a final pre-election statement today declared that the election was not in doubt and that he would be elected by a majority in excess of 150,000.

Difference in Claims
"I am now confident I will be elected," said Thomas Lee Woolwine, Democratic candidate, in his final appeal to the voters.

Harvey M. Toy, local manager for the Richardson campaign, declared the Republican candidate should win by 200,000.

Claude F. Purkitt, chairman of the Democratic central committee, declared his belief in a statement that the Democratic candidate would carry the state by 50,000.

And so the rival claims ranged today. Both sides were laying stress on the importance of "getting the vote out." Rival leaders today were busily engaged in exhorting their lieutenants to spare no effort to see that the voters go to the polls and are not overcome on the way by old "general apathy."

Edith May Osborne Joins Realty Firm

A great deal of interest in real estate circles will be the announcement by Hayward & McCartney that Edith May Osborne of "I Sell the Earth" fame, has associated herself with them as a saleslady, and they feel they are indeed fortunate to have secured the services of one of such wide reputation and experience as a real estate dealer.

Mrs. Osborne has been a resident of Glendale for fourteen years and therefore has a knowledge of Glendale that few can claim. She has seen and been active in its wonderful development, and believes that Glendale is destined to become a city of 100,000 people and more before many realize it.

Edith May Osborne will welcome her many friends at her new headquarters, and is looking forward to making a host of new friends in carrying on the good work of building up Glendale, she states.

E. de Valera Wants Republicans Out

RICHARDSON TO HAVE BIG LEAD

Republican Candidate Will Get Big Majority, Is the Prediction Made

ly thought, but he judiciously refrained from claiming control of either house. John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, predicted a Republican majority of from twenty-four to twenty-eight in the senate, and a "normal Republican majority" of around forty seats in the house. Whatever be the result, it will be accepted by both Democrats and Republicans as constituting a victory. The Republicans will consider their continued control of congress as an endorsement of their party's two-year control; the Democrats will consider it a sizeable victory to recover most of the ground lost in the great Republican tidal wave of 1920.

A number of the Glendale members of the Pi Beta Phi sorority are planning to attend the reception to be given Tuesday afternoon, November 7, from 3 o'clock until 6 at the sorority house, 647 West 28th street, Los Angeles, in honor of Miss Amy Onken of Chapin, Illinois, grand president. The TRUTH About the "Lawyers' Bill"

No more pernicious, vicious and malignant document was ever prepared by the pen of man, than the so-called specimen WILL, advocated and recommended by those trust companies who are so vigorously and with such great wealth fighting a law, the only effect of which is to prevent them from unlawfully practicing law.

They tell you that they only wish to render you free legal service—A president of one of the largest trust companies recently stated that he would spend $50,000 to defeat the law which is designed to prohibit the Unlawful Practice of the Law. You have transacted sufficient business with banks and trust companies to know that these institutions are not in the habit of giving anything away, much less spending hundreds of thousands of dollars for the privilege of doing so—And no one expects them to—And if they did, all of us would hasten to withdraw our life's savings from their keeping.

WHY IS IT THAT THEY DO NOT come forth and with all their power assert, "WE ALSO ARE IN FAVOR OF PROHIBITING THE UNLAWFUL PRACTICE OF THE LAW?" It would seem that all law-abiding citizens should be intensely interested in "prohibiting the Unlawful Practice of the Law."

THERE'S A REASON

The Reason is Selfish and Monetary.

"Where the Treasure is, there is the Heart also."

The trust companies issue and circulate among their employees a question book a sort of primer consisting of questions and answers. The employees are supposed to study and learn the contents. It gives them the desired perspective in relation to the corporations' business. They are examined upon it. This primer contains the following illuminating information:

"Question: What is the most profitable part of the trust business?"

Answer: "WILLS."

What revelation! Yet in their advertisements they say that they draw wills free and without charge. How can that be if it is gratuitous and free be at the same time the "MOST PROFITABLE?"

The answer is found in the specimen form will used and recommended by these trust companies. As before stated, it is a pernicious, vicious and malignant document.

By it a trust is created—the life accumulations of the testator are given over to the Trust Company who draw the Will—When the will was drawn it was free—Now the testator is dead and the free Will becomes expensive to a staggering degree. The price is paid by the widow and children who are helpless.

Under the law an estate cannot be tied up for longer than two generations—in which case, of course, during their lives neither the widow or children can force a distribution of any of the estate—Yes—according to the document the trust company is to pay the widow and children such income as MAY accrue from the trust estate. The law defines what receipts are income and would see to it that the widow and children received "legal income" but the specimen will of the trust companies is not satisfied with the law's definition of the "term" "income," so there is inserted in this specimen will a provision that the trust company which drew it shall be the exclusive judge of what receipts shall or shall not constitute income. So then the widow and children are to get the income, but no matter how large may be the receipts the trust company has the sole right to say what part of these receipts constitute income—and if it should say that no part of those receipts constitute income then there would be nothing for the widow and children.

Of course, the right of the wife and children to the income is without material value if there are no receipts. During his lifetime the average father and husband has been extremely careful in selecting his securities and investments. He has sought safe and income productive investments to the exclusion of speculative investments. He has done so in order to leave to his family, investments which will secure them a sure and continuous income. BUT the specimen will drawn by the trust company provides that the trust company may purchase for itself the securities and property of the trust estate—that it may sell its own securities to the trust estate—that it may exchange its own securities for securities and property of the trust estate. The law of this commonwealth asserts that a trustee cannot sell his own securities to a trust estate and under the law this trust company could not do so were it not for this noxious clause in this "FREE" will. This provision is deadly because—Under it a trust company may exchange the liberty bonds of the trust estate for its own bonds of secondary value and which it usually purchases at a discount. Such a possibility could not be expected to exist under any other than a "FREE WILL." Under it a trust company may exchange the liberty bonds of the trust estate for corporate stock of uncertain value in promotion campaigns organized by influential stockholders and officers of the trust company.

WHAT A BENEFICENCE! THIS FREE WILL!

When you are dead do you want your gift edged securities which you have so carefully selected exchanged for speculative oil stock in a company which afterwards drills a dry hole? IT COULD BE DONE UNDER THIS CLAUSE OF THE SPECIMEN WILL.

Would such a will be economical? Is it not wise to decisively insist that THERE SHALL BE NO "UNLAWFUL PRACTICE OF THE LAW?"

This specimen free will provides that the trust company who drew it may invest the funds of the trust estate in any sort of security even though it might otherwise be unlawful to do so. The law of California, with great wisdom and wholly out of regard for the best interest of the beneficiaries, the widow and the children, limits and with great caution restricts the kind of securities in which trust funds may be invested. WHY IS IT THAT THE TRUST COMPANY DESIRES THE PRIVILEGE TO INVEST THE FUNDS OF THE DEAD AND THE SUSTENANCE OF THE LIVING IN SECURITIES WHICH ARE BRANDED AS UNWORTHY AND UNDESIRABLE BY THIS STATE?

IT IS A FACT that the officers of the trust companies who are now fighting this law do not take advantage of these trusts which are so generously thrust upon the public.

James C. Drake, late president of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank (now Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank), died. His estate was probated in the same court, being No. 53,937. HE CREATED NO TRUST OF HIS ESTATE.

Stoddard Jess, late President of the First National Bank of Los Angeles now merged with the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank, died. His estate was probated in the same court, being No. 45,755. HE CREATED NO TRUST OF HIS ESTATE.

THERE'S A REASON

Stop the Unlawful Practice of the Law.

In the ordinary trust the fees and compensation of the trustees are, under the law, directed to be fixed by an IMPARTIAL JUDGE of the Superior Court, a public official answerable to the public, one who has taken a solemn OATH OF OFFICE. Not so with the trust company under the specimen free will drawn by itself. Under this will it is provided that the trust company shall receive annually during the life of the trust three-fifths of one per cent, computed upon the full value of the trust estate, which on a $300,000 trust estate would amount to $1800 per annum. In 50 years this fee alone would amount to $90,000 or nearly one-third of the estate. Many trusts so created run for two generations. This fee is only for ordinary and usual services. And it provides further that if any services are rendered which IN THE OPINION of the trust company are extraordinary and unusual, then it shall receive additional compensation in such amount as IT MAY CONSIDER REASONABLE. IS THERE NOT A CORNER ON THE INHERITANCE OF THE LIVING?

If there is any extraordinary service the trust company gets more pay. The trust company is the sole judge of what service is extraordinary service and it is also the sole judge of how much it will pay to itself out of the property which you have saved for your wife and children. Would you hire a man and allow him to fix his own wage and how much service he would render to you? MARK YOU—Unlike the limitations upon the wife and children who participate only in the income, and then only if the trust company says there is any income—the specimen form provides that THE FEES OF THE TRUST COMPANY ARE PAYABLE OUT OF EITHER THE PRINCIPAL OR THE INCOME OR BOTH.

Is it not time to now stop the unlawful practice of the Law?

Proposition No. 24 on the ballot tomorrow will stop the unlawful practice of the law if you vote "YES."

The opposing trust companies say it will prevent escrow work, drawing deeds, bills of sale, notes, etc., and that they will not be able to tell you how many revenue stamps to place on a note—or when your note outlaws. Don't worry! The banks and trust companies will make themselves heard long before your note has any opportunity of outlawing. These arguments are unsound and fictitious and they know it or at least should. The proposed law expressly provides that it shall not apply to escrows or the preparation of documents or the giving of advice in connection therewith: THAT IT SHALL NOT PREVENT ANY PERSON FROM PREPARING ORDINARY BUSINESS AGREEMENTS AND CONVEYANCES AND GIVING ADVICE INCIDENTAL TO THE PREPARATION THEREOF.

The trust companies say that the word "ordinary" as used above and in the law is ambiguous and uncertain and they do not know what it means. If they will but refer to the specimen will, so carefully prepared, they will no longer be in darkness—for there it is provided that the trust company shall receive the three-fifths of one per centum for the "ORDINARY" services rendered by it and for such other services as it considers not "ORDINARY" it shall pay to itself such additional compensation as it deems reasonable. It would seem that the trust companies have a pretty clear idea of the meaning of the word "ORDINARY."

The Proposed Law will not interfere with legitimate trust business. It will not interfere with ordinary business.

But It Will Stop the Unlawful Practice of the Law.
